SEC. ANDERSON RELEASES 3RD TRADERS LIST

Truman's Personal Physician and Utah Governor in Total of 99.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, President Truman's personal physician, and Gov. H. B. Maw of Utah were among 99 public officials named by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today as speculating in grain last September.

The 99 included 80 federal government employes, counting military officers as federal employes. The others work for state or local governments.

Graham issued a statement saying his broker bought the grain for him without his knowledge and that when he learned of it he ordered it sold. He said he had turned "a very small saving" over to his broker with instructions to handle his account as the broker thought best.

Neither he or his family has any commodity holdings, Graham said.

Extent of Dealings

Graham was reported to have held 30,000 bushels of wheat on the "long" side of the market and 20,000 bushels on the short side on September 17.

He also was reported to have sold 10,000 bushels on Sept. 19.

Governor Maw was listed as having held 5,000 bushels on the long side of the market on Sept. 17 and to have sold the same amount on Sept. 18.

Those on the "long" side of the market believe prices will go higher and accordingly buy grain for future delivery. Those on the "short" side believe prices will go down. They sell for future delivery, hoping to gain by a price decline.

Today's list of traders is the third released by the department under congressional instructions growing out of charges by Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, and others that "government insiders" have been profiting by speculation in commodities.

Speculation is entirely legal, but President Truman has spoken out sharply against "gambling" in grain, contending it has run up prices. Some commodity exchange men dispute the President's view that speculation increases prices.

Federal Men Listed

The agriculture department said three of its own employes were on the list released today.

One official listed was Harold B. McDonald, a clerk of the United States bureau of internal revenue at Washington.

The department said he is a son of J. E. McDonald, Texas agricultural commissioner, who has long been a critic of the administration's farm policies. The department said it had investigated McDonald's operations and that he had told them the operations were those of his father. McDonald was listed as having held 10,000 bushels long on Sept 17 and to have sold that quantity on September 20.

The two lists of traders previously made public included only one person who was identified by the department as a public official. He is Edwin W. Pauley, assistant to the secretary of the Army.

Pauley had told a congressional committee of his operations. He said he went into the market while a private citizen and has taken steps to dispose of his holdings since accepting his government post.

Most of the federal employes on today's list have jobs outside of Washington.

Other Traders Named

The agriculture department employes include J. Lee Zimmerman, a soil surveyor, of route 4, Lexington, N. C. He was reported to have bought 1,000 bushels of wheat Sept. 19.

Another was Donald J. Smith, farm labor supervisor, of St. Paul, Minn. He was listed as having bought 5,000 bushels on Sept. 19.

The third department employe was Ralph J. Baker, an employe at Lincoln, Neb. He was listed as having bought 10,000 bushels of wheat on Sept. 19 and to have sold 5,000 bushels on the following day.

The department said a former employe, Herbert Franzen, at one time a farm credit examiner, was on the list. He was reported to have held 10,000 bushels on the long side of the market on Sept. 17, to have bought and sold 10,000 on Sept. 18, to have bought 5,000 on Sept. 19 and to have sold 5,000 on Sept. 20.

John R. Jameson, U. S. postoffice employe, Wooster, O., held 3,000 long Sept. 17, sold 2,000 Sept. 20.

Zack D. Cravey, state comptroller, Atlanta, Ga., held 10,000 long Sept. 17, bought 5,000 Sept. 20.

Williston L. Dye, U. S. Navy, Washington, held 11,000 long Sept. 17, sold 6,000 Sept. 18, sold 5,000 Sept. 19.

W. A. and Mrs. C. A. Eaton, U. S. Navy commander, Arlington, Va., held 5,000 long Sept. 17.

Cmdr. James H. Fortune, naval officer, Annapolis, Md, held 1,000 long Sept. 17.

Oscar M. Freeman, U. S. Navy, of New York City, held 5,000 long

Portsmouth Voted Franchise In Ohio-Indiana Baseball League

Special to The Star

NEWARK, O., Dec. 29 — President Frank Colley of the Ohio-Indiana Baseball league said today that Portsmouth, O., voted a franchise yesterday, would operate as a Philadelphia Athletics farm club.

A member of the Mid-Atlantic league from 1934 to 1940, Portsmouth takes over the franchise vacated when Dayton recently joined the new Central league.

The Ohio-Indiana league, which operated as the Ohio State league for several seasons, opens play April 27, Colley said, with Springfield at Zanesville, Portsmouth at Newark, Muncie, Ind., at Marion and Richmond, Ind., at Lima.

The franchise was granted to the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the league in Granville yesterday. Louis E. Michel, Portsmouth C. of C. secretary who had been working to obtain the franchise, was formerly secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

The Marion Cubs were represented at the meeting by Judge W. Dexter Hazen, club president, and Forest Coss, secretary-treasurer.

Schedules were also approved at the afternoon meeting.

When informed of the acquisition of the franchise by the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce yesterday, Arthur Ehler, manager of the Philadelphia Athletic's farm clubs, said he would start to work immediately to build a ball club.

Portsmouth had a franchise in the class 'C Mid-Atlantic league from 1934-1940 but after winning the pennant in 1938, baseball attendance dropped off and the franchise was dropped. The ball field, Riverside Park, was unused during the war and Portsmouth officials expect it will take two or three months to have it ready for the opening of the season in late April. The park was built in the mid-thirties by the WPA.

Portsmouth's opening game at Newark April 27 is the only date settled but the new club expects to complete their schedule in the near future.

The old Portsmouth ball club was a farm of the St. Louis Cardinals and such stars as Whitey Kurowski, Ernie White and Frank Martin were developed there.

Dayton May Not Play Next Year

Dayton might be without organized baseball next year, Dr. Bradford, president of the Gem City club told directors of the Ohio-Indiana league at the meeting yesterday in Granville.

Bradford said he received a telegram yesterday morning from officials of the Central league that the new class A loop would not be ready to operate next year.

The Dayton franchise holders in the Ohio-Indiana league wanted to keep the present franchise and move it to nearby Piqua, but the loop moguls chose Portsmouth instead.

Dayton was in the Ohio-State league on loan from the Mid-Atlantic now operating in eastern Ohio and Pennsylvania. The Dayton club had kept the franchise in that loop all during the years when the league did operate by paying the protection fee to the National Association of Baseball clubs.

The Cleveland Indians own half interest in the Dayton franchise of the new Central league, having recently purchased the interest of Ival Goodman, former Cincinnati Red outfielder who managed the club for two years.

Bounties of $558 Paid on 186 Foxes Killed in County

With less than three days remaining until the year end, Marion county has paid out a total of $558 in fox bounties, according to Sheriff LeRoy Retterer.

A total of 186 foxes have been brought into his office during the year and have accounted for all but $42 of the $600 appropriation made for 1947 by the county commissioners for this purpose.

During 1946, the first year the commissioners placed a bounty of $3 on each fox killed in the county, the entire $600 appropriation was paid out when 200 foxes had been brought in by Dec. 31.

QUAKE IN NEW ENGLAND

By The Associated Press

DOVER-FOXFORT, Me., Dec. 29—A "fairly strong" earthquake shock houses and rattled dishes in a dozen Piscataquis and Penobscot county towns for two minutes yesterday. Nobody was injured and there were no reports of property loss.

Caledonia Youth Hurt By Discharge of Gun

Merrill Miller, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Miller of three miles south of Caledonia, was accidentally wounded Sunday afternoon when the shotgun he was carrying discharged. He and his twin brother were out on their farm fox hunting and the gun discharged when they were climbing over a fence. He suffered moderate wounds in his back and leg and was admitted to City hospital for treatment. The attending physician reported his condition today as "fair." He was brought to Marion in the Timson Allen ambulance of Caledonia.

GREEK TROOPS CUT GUERRILLA SIEGE FORCES

Reinforcements Fight Way Through Reds Into City of Konitsa.

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, Dec. 29—Government sources announced today that a brigade of reinforcing Greek troops had fought their way through guerrilla siege lines and entered the hard-pressed city of Konitsa near the Albanian frontier.

The relief column was believed to be a part of the forces which the government announced yesterday had been hurled into a new offensive to smash the guerrilla drive on Konitsa.

The guerrillas' goal apparently was to seize Konitsa as the capital of the new independent Communist "government" recently proclaimed by their leader, Gen. Markos Vifiades.

Reports from the front indicated the relief column had smashed through guerrilla lines astride the Konitsa-Kalpaki road at a point about nine miles southwest of Konitsa and had moved up the highway to the beleaguered city.

44,000 Refugees in City

Approximately 44,000 refugees earlier were reported to have sought refuge from the guerrillas in Konitsa, whose garrison was badly outnumbered by the besiegers.

The government forces participating in the offensive to smash the rebel drive on Konitsa were supported by rocket-firing spitfire fighters of the Greek air force based at Ioannina, about 25 miles to the south.

Clearing weather gave the airmen their first clear targets yesterday, and they were reported to have inflicted heavy casualties on the guerrillas. Their targets included heavy 66-millimeter guns with which the guerrillas have been bombarding the city, and two of the guns were reported knocked out.

Report "Fierce" Resistance

Press reports from the front said the guerrillas had offered fierce resistance everywhere, however, and acknowledged that government losses had been "considerable."

Government sources estimated the guerrillas had 23 battalions totaling about 4,000 men—plus smaller bands—in the battle area.

The number of government troops participating in the offensive was not disclosed, but the forces were said to include reinforcements and heavy arms rushed from western Macedonia.

The new government offensive coincided with promulgation of a government decree outlawing the Communist party and its sympathizers and providing heavy penalties for violators.

MAN BADLY BURNED IN KEROSENE BLAST

Henry Bauer, Taken to Hospital in Serious Condition.

Henry Bauer, 60, of near Marion suffered third-degree burns early today when the kerosene he was pouring on a fire exploded and destroyed his one-room frame house on Emerson street just outside the city limits near West Fairground street.

Bauer was kindling a fire in his coal-burning barrel stove shortly after 4 a. m. when hot coals in the stove ignited the kerosene, causing the can to explode, Fire Chief Sifritt said.

The frame building, about 10 by 12 feet in size, was destroyed before firemen from Central station could arrive. Loss was estimated at $100.

Bauer was taken to City hospital and is in serious condition there, his attending physician reported.

He suffered second and third degree burns on his feet and left leg and both hands, and first degree burns about the face. He lived alone.

This was the second kerosene fire within a month. Carl Banks, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Banks of near Marion was critically burned Dec. 6 when a kerosene can exploded as he was kindling a fire in the kitchen. He suffered third-degree burns and still is in critical condition in City hospital.

Fire Chief Sifritt again emphasized the extreme danger of using kerosene or other highly inflammable liquids to start fires.

Engineer of the train, westbound No. 11, was W. H. Lynch. The bodies were removed to the Timson Allen funeral home in Caledonia.

WINDS BLOCK B-29 RESCUE

Break in Storm Hoped for in Efforts To Reach Fliers in Arctic.

By The United Press

NOME, Alaska, Dec. 29 — An Arctic blizzard with 40-mile winds that sent temperatures plunging to 30 degrees below zero blocked the rescue today of four known survivors of a B-29 who have been marooned on desolate Mt. Serpentine, 100 miles north of here, since Tuesday.

Air Force officials said they would attempt to set up a base camp at the foot of Mt. Serpentine four miles from the wreckage and direct operations from there.

They hoped for a break in the storm so they could attempt an aerial rescue today but the brief Arctic day—four hours—made any such attempt hazardous.

Aerial rescue attempts were called off last night after a series of mishaps to both air and ground parties. The worst accident occurred when a C-47 tow plane and glider carrying dogsleds and troops were forced down 60 miles south of the crash scene. An Air Force ski plane made a daring rescue of the ground glider and transport troops.

Paratroopers Bring Aid

Paratroopers jumped to the aid of the four—and possibly more—survivors of the crash yesterday. They carried medical equipment, tents and emergency rations.

One of the paratroopers was a doctor. The weather was so bad that the parachute team was unable to radio how many survivors were found in the bomber's twisted wreckage.

The report that four and possibly five of the B-29 crew survived the crash came from bush pilots who managed to fly low over the scene yesterday.

A glider and tow plane with supplies will leave here for a small ice-covered lake near the mountain's snowbound slopes. A small Norseman civilian airplane operated by bush pilot Frank Whaley also will go to the lake.

The first C-47's emergency landing was believed caused by

TRUMAN PUTS NAME ON G.O.P. BACKED BILL

Promises To Sign Anti-Inflation Bill Today but Calls It Inadequate.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—President Truman promised to sign into law today the Republican anti-inflation bill, but he branded it as "pitifully inadequate" to deal with the "grave peril" confronting the nation's economy.

Several key Republicans struck back with angry words of their own in defense of the voluntary steps which form the backbone of the G.O.P. measure.

Thus the high cost of living and how to bring it down sizzled as the major political issue to start off the 1948 election year.

Mr. Truman took the unusual course of issuing a Sunday statement to announce his decision and to declare if congress does not give him better weapons to fight inflation the country may face a "serious depression."

He left the actual signing until today, at an hour which the White House did not specify. The measure becomes effective immediately once it is signed.

Here in a nut shell is what the Republican bill does:

▶Authorizes the president to consult with representatives of industry, business and agriculture with a view to encouraging voluntary agreements for: (A) The allocation, or fair distribution, of transportation facilities and equipment; (B) Fairly sharing and limiting reserve stocks of scarce commodities which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production, and (C) The regulation of speculative trading on commodity exchanges.

▶Sets up a food conservation program in this country and a program to promote production of food and livestock feed in non-European countries. Both are to be voluntary.

▶Requests, but does not direct, the President to submit to congress a detailed program to parcel out cost-of-living items when they reach the "critical shortage" stage. Congress would act on the program, one way or the other, within 15 days.

▶Restores until Jan. 31, 1948, the President's wartime authority to restrict the use of grain in whisky productiin.

▶Extends to Feb. 28, 1949, the President's power to control exports.

▶Continues to the same date controls over rail transportation facilities, which also were due to end Feb. 29.

The bill specifically forbids price fixing through the voluntary agreements.

The first official action to carry out its provisions appeared likely to be an order to distillers to hold their grain consumption to 2,500,000 bushels a month during the five weeks the bill revives Mr. Truman's wartime powers over whisky making.

A 60-day voluntary distilling program came to an end Christmas eve with the government and major distillers at odds over a new conservation program.

Mr. Truman said he was acting "reluctantly" and with a "sense

GAS SHORTAGE HITS MARION, OTHER AREAS

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 29—Gas supplies to approximately 160 industrial customers in Ohio and parts of three other states will be cut off today to conserve fuel for residential use, the Manufacturing Light & Heat Co. announced here.

Company officials said the 100 per cent curtailment was necessary because of a cold wave sweeping toward the four-state area, which includes West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York.

A company spokesman said that a number of plants have stand-by fuel supplies for emergency use and that production normally slackens over the New Year holiday. Duration of the curtailment, he said, will depend on the cold wave.

No other companies in the district have announced similar curtailments.

MARION INDUSTRIAL SUPPLY TO BE CUT

The gas supply to industrial plants in Marion will be curtailed 90 per cent, C. E. Sechrist, local manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., said today. However, the plants which are the large users of gas in the city have standby equipment to convert to the use of other fuels, a survey of the larger plants using gas, revealed.

The plants were warned last summer that in case of severe cold weather the gas supply would be low and oil burners were installed in anticipation of the emergency, Mr. Sechrist said.

How long the gas supply will be curtailed, depends on the weather, Mr. Sechrist said. He expects no curtailment for home users.

SEEKS REELECTION AT 85

By The Associated Press

PAINESVILLE, O., Dec. 29 — Sheriff James Maloney is 82, but he said today he "expected to run" for reelection next year. He now is serving a fifth term as sheriff.

FIRST GENERAL REVALUATION IN 25 YEARS

County Auditor Orders Work in Compliance with New Ohio Statute.

A complete reappraisal of real estate for taxation purposes will be made in Marion county in 1948.

The appraisal will cover all real estate, public utilities and industry. It will be the first complete general reappraisal since 1923.

It also will be the first county-wide appraisal ever made by professional appraisal engineers, according to County Auditor Harry V. Mounts. The 1923 general appraisal used local appraisers.

The county auditor has not as yet made final selection of the firm to conduct the appraisal. Proposals of two companies are being considered at the present time. Announcement of the firm engaged to conduct the appraisal is expected shortly.

Work To Start Soon

Work on the revaluation will begin soon after the first of the year and may occupy the better part of 1948. The majority of the appraisals will be made by the appraisal firm. However, both proposals now under consideration by the county provide that local help will be provided through the county auditor's office for rural districts.

The reappraisal scheduled for 1948 is being done in accordance with an act passed by the Ohio legislature June 10, 1947, calling for a general appraisal to be conducted by the county auditor at least once in each six-year period beginning with the year 1943. This makes the reappraisal mandatory either this year or in 1949.

Cost of the revaluation program will be charged against the general fund of the county, with the county commissioners empowered to fix the amount to be paid for the survey. However, under the law if the commissioners fail to provide what the county auditor deems a sufficient amount for the task, he may apply to the state tax appeals board for an additional allowance which if approved will be charged to the county.

Basis of New Tax Bills

Following completion of the reappraisal which the county auditor estimated would not be finished before October at the earliest, tax bills are to be issued after completion of the survey has been advertised for three consecutive weeks. Owners of property on which a change in assessment has been made shall be given notice at least 30 days prior to the issuance of the tax bills.

In making the reappraisal, present land and building prices will not be used, Mr. Mounts said. Valuations will be based on the more nearly normal figures prior to the war, probably those of 1940 or 1941, after price of materials and labor costs, as a basis of estimating replacement values, have been checked.

The last revaluation made was in 1943 when a flat 10 per cent increase was placed on buildings in municipalities and on lands in rural districts.

Cut in 1931

In 1931 a blanket reduction of valuation of public utilities and industry, buildings in the city and county villages and on farm lands resulted in a 15 per cent cut.

In 1931 at the time of the reduction in valuation, the county had an entire valuation for taxing purposes of $86,075,990 which, after the 15 per cent cut, dropped to $54,551,740, in 1947. By 1942 valuation had risen to a $57,809,150 figure which increased to $61,934,990 in 1943 when the increase of ten per cent was applied. Present figure expressing total valuation as of 1947 is $65,260,900.

Emanuele, Who Put Mussolini In Power in Italy, Dies As Exile

By The Associated Press

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT, Dec. 29—Vittorio Emanuele III, 78, the diminutive king whose 20 years of subservience to Benito Mussolini led to the downfall of the House of Savoy and nearly brought about the ruin of Italy, died in exile yesterday of pneumonia at his Alexandria villa.

Elena, tall, 74-year-old wife of the former ruler, was at his bedside when death came.

The former king was stricken with double pneumonia Wednesday while preparing to celebrate Christmas with his family.

A dispatch from Lisbon said that Umberto, who succeeded his father as king for one month, until the Italians threw out the monarchy, planned to leave today for Alexandria.

Vittorio Emanuele, ostracized by his people after World War I, came under the domination of Mussolini in 1922 when the latter marched on Rome and the king summoned him to form a cabinet.

During the ensuing years the five-foot-three monarch signed a long series of fascist decrees Mussolini placed before him.

15 KILLED IN CLASH AT DAMASCUS GATE

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Dec 29—At least 12 Arabs, two British constables and one Jew were killed in a clash at Jerusalem's historic Damascus Gate today after Jews had hurled grenades and sprayed an Arab bus with machinegun bullets.

Police at the scene said the melee started when the occupants of a Jewish taxi heaved a grenade into a crowded street near the massive stone gate and machinegunned an Arab bus preparing to leave for the all-Arab town of Nablus.

"At least 12 Arabs were killed," the police said.

They declared that two carloads of Arabs chased the fleeing taxi and overhauled it a mile away, where they killed one Jew and wounded another. The Arabs then brought the taxi back to Damascus gate where they set it afire.

Two British constables trying to restore order among the enraged Arabs were killed in attempting to put out the blaze.

Other violence of the day added further casualties.

An armed band, believed to be Jewish, raided the British army's Tel Litwinsky camp near Tel Aviv, killed one British soldier and fled with a large number of guns. The attackers, who wore battle dress and steel helmets, entered the camp by cutting through barbed wire barricades. Police said they attacked the armory under cover of heavy fire.

In Bethlehem, an Arab doctor who headed the government mental hospital was shot to death in the Ibhasi quarter not far from the Church of the Nativity.

The dead in communal violence in Palestine since the United Nations voted Nov. 29 to partition Palestine totaled 424. The toll throughout the whole middle east rose to 545.

DR. LEWIS SPEAKS TO YOUTH GROUP

Winona Lake, Ind., Evangelist Talks on "Peculiar People."

Dr. Clifford Lewis of Winona Lake, Ind., spoke at the Youth for Christ meeting Saturday night in the Fite Memorial Baptist church on "A Peculiar People." The service was in charge of Dr. C. E. Hershey, director, and Rev. R. A. Maugans, host pastor, who was in charge of music. Special music was by Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy from the Moody Bible institute in Chicago, who sang a duet and solo numbers, and instrumental selections were by Miss Dorothy Goyer who played the xylarimba, and Joyce Jett, vibraharp. Mary Lou and Joan Miller, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Opal Miller, sang, and an accordion duet was by Rev. Maugans and Dr. Hershey. Prayers were by Rev. L. T. Merchant of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Rev. J. H. Thomas of Bucyrus. Rev. Harry L. Troutner and Rev. Ernest B. Marsh, Bucyrus pastors, were present also among the attendance of approximately 200. Accompanists for singing were Miss Louise Caldwell and Mrs. J. W. Baker.

Dr. Lewis defined a "peculiar" person as one who is "different." "A real Christian is peculiar in affection," he declared. "If we love Christ there will be no room in our heart for worldly things. We are to be peculiar in our joy, peace and happiness. 'We do not know what the future holds, but we know who holds the future.'"

Announcement was made of special meetings, a Youth for Christ banquet at the Masonic hall Jan. 6 at 6:30 p. m., with A. C. Feigart of Van Wert as speaker and Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Lewis taking part on the program; and the Youth for Christ third anniversary, Jan. 31, with a special program planned.

Search Made for 34 Lost in Shipwreck

By The Associated Press

MANILA, Dec. 29—Planes and ships searched today for 33 crewmen and one passenger from the Danish motorship Kina, which sank Christmas night in a typhoon off Samar island of the central Philippines.

Twenty-nine others were rescued and the body of the ship's engineer was recovered.

An earthquake on the east coast of Luzon added to the tremendous toll of the typhoon, described as the worst in 42 years. The mayor of Mauban reported the quake, coupled with huge sea waves, destroyed half the town. There were on casualties among its 15,000 residents, however.

(Radio amateurs, in reports reaching San Francisco, said total damage in the Philippines would approximate nearly $10,000,000, including an estimated $500,000 at Clark Field, U. S. air base north of Manila.)

EMANUELE

July, 1943, when allied victories in the Mediterranean theater showed Italy's true weakness and Vittorio Emanuele played a major role in unseating the dictator to whom he had played yes-man for so many years.

Denounced Mussolini, Hitler

When finally he found asylum with the Allies, Vittorio Emanuele denounced Mussolini and Hitler.

The Italians remembered keenly his previous loyalties, however, and called for his abdication.

In 1944 when the allies took Rome, the king surrendered his power to Umberto as lieutenant general of the realm, a move which made him king in name only.

Public feeling remained hostile, and in a final move to save the House of Savoy Vittorio Emanuele on May 9, 1946 signed a document of abdication in favor of Umberto and sailed with his wife to Alexandria.

The long reign of Vittorio Emanuele III as King of Italy encompassed two world wars, two minor conflicts, various political disorders and periods of peace and prosperity, but the adventure with fascism overshadowed all else and resulted in his abdication. In yielding the throne in 1946 he paid the bitter price for his surrender 24 years earlier to Benito Mussolini and his principles of dictatorship.

The King earned a reputation as a sympathetic monarch, interested in his people's welfare, during his first part of his rule. When some disaster occurred, he hastened to the scene and personally directed relief. Millions of lire found their way from his private funds to the coffers of charity. He was an idol of the Italians after World War I when he led his nation against Germany and Austra-Hungary.

Gives in To Threat

On Oct. 24, 1922, Mussolini stood among his followers at Naples and delivered an ultimatum —"give us power peacefully or we shall take it by force." That was the prelude to the theatrical "March on Rome" by his blackshirts. The King defied his ministers by refusing to sign a decree declaring marital law to check it. Shortly after the trek had been completed he summoned Mussolini to form a government.

But when Mussolini fell upon evil days as the Allies moved up the Italian boot, Vittorio Emanuele turned against him. He named Pietro Badoglio premier and denounced the "fascist republic" which the former Duce formed in northern Italy following his rescue from imprisonment by German parachutists from an isolated tourist hotel on a lone mountain peak.

The king told Mussolini that his usefulness was ended.

Vittorio Emanuele succeeded to the throne July 29, 1900, when his father, Umberto I, was assasinated near Milan. On April 12, 1928, a bomb was thrown at him at Milan, killing a number of bystanders. The perpetrators escaped.

Peace With Vatican

One of the outstanding events of his reign was the conclusion in 1929 of the Lateran treaties with the Holy See. The papacy recognized Rome as the capital of the kingdom of Italy under King Vittorio Emanuele as head of the House of Savoy. Thus was repaired the breach between the Vatican and the Quirinal that came about in 1870 when the king's grandfather, Vittorio Emanuele II, first king of United Italy, occupied Rome by force of arms.

A decade after the settlement Pope Pius XII called on King Vittoria Emanuele and Queen Elena to mark the first visit by any Pope to a temporal prince in more than 70 years. The Pontiff, who went to the Quirinal Palace amid pomp and ceremony, formally repaid a visit the King and Queen had paid him earlier. In a brief speech he said his visit "resealed the happy accord between the church and the state."

Vittorio Emanuele was born Nov. 11, 1869. While still the Prince of Naples he married Princess Elena, daughter of King Nicholas of Montenegro, in 1896. and five children were born to this union.

Problem Confronts Italian Government

By The Associated Press

ROME, Dec. 29—A former king's death in Egyptian exile dumped another problem into the already overladen lap of Premier Alcide de Gasperi today.

The problem: Should the government of the young Italian republic send condolences to the family of ex-King Vittorio Emanuele III, who died yesterday in Alexandria one year and ten months after he abdicated the throne he had held almost 46 years?

Political sources said some cabinet ministers were urging the Catholic premier that it was the least the republic's fourth ministry could do to cable its regrets to ex-Queen Elena.

REPORTS FUR COAT STOLEN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—Hildegarde, the night club singer, reported to police that a sneak thief entered her Hotel Plaza apartment early yesterday and stole jewelry and a fur coat she valued roughly at a total of $25,000.

A cold is a symptom of many disorders. The germs of many diseases are generally found in the nose and throat. Cold in the head and sore throat is often the first symptoms to be noted in the cases of meningitis, infantile paralysis and pneumonia. 1 KILLED, 50 INJURED IN TEXAS TRAIN WRECK

By The Associated Press

CORSICANA, Tex., Dec. 29 — One person was hurt fatally and 50 others injured in the derailment of four cars on the sleek Sam Houston Burlington Zephyr last night.

Emmitt Austin Holman, Dallas, Tex., died in a Corsicana hospital at 11:50 p. m.—nearly six hours after three chair cars and a diner lounge left the tracks on a 75-foot trestle.

Only two of an estimated 50 persons injured when the heavily-loaded cars left the track were considered in a serious condition today.

The streamlined train had made a regularly scheduled stop here at 6:10 p. m. A few minutes later while traveling at a speed estimated at less than 50 miles an hour the four cars overturned into a dry ditch.

A broken rail was believed to have been the cause of the accident.

of deep disappointment that the congress has seen fit to take such feeble steps toward the control of inflation."

Centering his fire on the bill's provisions for voluntary agreement in industry, business and agriculture to share scarce materials without incurring the risk of anti-trust prosecution, the Chief Executive declared:

"It is far too late in the fight against inflation to place our reliance upon voluntary action."

"This bill fails to include the key measures which are essential to an effective anti-inflation program," Mr. Truman asserted.

"This bill will not reduce the high cost of living, and it will not keep prices from going even higher."

Republicans Answer

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), who sponsored the measure along with Senator Taft (R-Ohio), shot back that if living costs are not brought down "the fault will be that of the President and not of congress."

Senator Ball (R-Minn), a member of the senate-house economic committee headed by Taft, said the President's statement "smells a bit of politics."

Senator Dworshak (R-Odaho) contended Mr. Truman is "deliberately trying to deceive the American people," and house Republican Leader Halleck (Ind) declared the President "appears to have lost his faith in the American voluntary way of life."

Taft Says President Playing Politics

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 29—Senator Robert A. Taft, an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, said today President Truman is "playing all the politics he can with high prices."

The Ohio senator, at a breakfast held for him and Mrs. Taft here by the Jackson County Republican committee, was referring to the President's statement last night on the Republican anti-inflation bill which he said he was going to sign although it was "pitifully inadequate."

Taft said Truman's comments on the anti-inflation measure, cosponsored by Taft and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), represented the administration's effort to shift the responsibility to the Republicans.

"Present prices are due to the policies of the government for the last 15 years," Taft told the county Republican committee. "The inflation has been produced by the spending policy of the administration, and by more demand than supply.

"The inflation has been brought about by the lavish use of money and the tremendous government deficits."

Even greater governmental spending, he said, is being planned.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

WALLACE EXPECTED TO "LEAP" TONIGHT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—Henry A. Wallace comes to his hour of decision tonight, with Democratic leaders hoping that if he elects to head a third party he will pull no punches in his criticism of President Truman.

The view of these Democratic strategists is that a Wallace campaign on a "peace" ticket would react to the President's benefit if the former vice president displays publicly the bitter feelings he is reported to hold against Mr. Truman for kicking him out of his cabinet.

Latest reports to the Democratic high command are that Wallace will make the leap into the presidential race in his radio speech from Chicago at 10:30 tonight, contending that both major parties have become "war" parties and that the only road to peace lies in developing a new policy toward Soviet Russia.

Republicans, confident that Wallace can command some so-called leftwing votes which otherwise would go to Mr. Truman, would welcome his entry.

BRITISH WORRY OVER GASOLINE RATIONING

The Associated Press

LDON, Dec. 29—Prospects ...oline rationing may back- ...tnis dollar-hungry isle ...e British tourist trade

...lexander Maxwell, chair- ...the British tourist and ...board, outlined the prob- ...recent press conference ...mple terms:

...ee great difficulty in the ...ummer with the hotels in ...g them to do everything ...when their revenue has been cut in the last few weeks by the cessation of the basic petrol allowance.

"Hotels on the south coast are not going to have funds to keep them going. Their loss has been appalling ever since basic rationing fell."

But Sir Alexander nursed brighter hope—given government cooperation—of other methods of extracting dollars from American tourists in return for goods going now chiefly into the export trade.

Tourists now may buy such goods without ration coupons provided their purchases are sent directly to the ship or plane in which they are returning home.

Sir Alexander believes present precautions are cutting down sales and wants to cut out this red tape. Under his proposal visitors would be able to buy goods from the export quota upon producing their passports or some other identifying document.

All told, he anticipates at least 100,000 tourists will visit here from North America during 1948. And he has a word of advice for those who want to see that tourist trade—and the resulting flow of dollars—grow.

The watchword is "service and a warm welcome."

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

THE "something nice to eat" which Katharine had promised was a feast, indeed, although I saw that she had chosen it with the idea of providing appetizing nourishment without any rich indigestible dishes. Fruit juice, a cup of delicate and delicious soup, the half of a broiled chicken, a baked potato, new peas, sliced tomatoes, my favorite custard, and coffee, made me feel when I finished it that indeed, "I had dined today."

Katharine timed her second appearance perfectly, took away the tray and ordered me back to bed.

"Dicky will bring Faith over in about an hour. Can you go back to sleep again?"

"Indeed, no," I told her. I'm wide awake. But, won't my being in bed alarm Faith?"

"Not so that you could notice it," Katharine said with a smile. "I have told her that I have ordered you to rest before you go away, the way Mary rests before going to the theater. She is tremendously thrilled, and I am sure you'll be in for a grilling of questions when she comes over. But Dicky is prepared to whisk her back here before she tires you out."

"She couldn't tire me out," I said.

"Spoken like a true mother, if a slightly fatuous one," Katharine said. "But I'm not taking any chances. So long. I'll deposit your tray outside your door for the waiter to pick up. Invite your soul for the hour before your spouse and your che-e-ld appear." But I did not follow her advice. Any thought of speculation on Georges was useless. I must deal with him according to the incidents which should arise during the journey and at the farmhouse. And I knew that Mary and Faith were in the capable hands of Katharine, and of my husband. So I picked up my discarded magazine and read—until the key in the lock heralded Dicky and Faith.

My first impulse was to rise and greet them, but I knew that would be shattering to Faith's built-up picture of me, but I sat up against my pillows and held out my arms to my small daughter who rushed into them with a breathless and tumultuous "bear-hug." Then she drew back with a maternally solicitous look upon her elfin little face, while over her head her father grinned at me with comradely understanding.

"Are you sure you're rested enough, Mummy, for your 'hush hush' journey?" she demanded.

"I am very much rested," I told her. "I ought to be. Aunt Katharine has made me sleep hours today."

"That was very wise of her," she said with all the assured commentation of a superintendent of nurses, with a touch of condescension thrown in on her own account. "She's a very good nurse. She knew you had to have all your strength for your 'hush hush' journey."

She appeared to hold the words on her tongue, and to savor them. I felt the inevitable question slipping from my own lips.

"Why do you call my trip a 'hush hush' journey?" I asked, and hoped my anxiety at her quoted words did not show in my voice.

"You said you had to do some errands for Granddad, didn't you?" she asked limpidly.

"Yes, I did," I said, "but that doesn't mean they are 'hush hush.'"

"He knows how busy you are," she said with her head on one side, and looking at me meditatively. "He never would bother you with ordinary stuff. But if he has anything very important or 'hush hush' on hand, then he just naturally sends for you."

I settled back among my pillows much relieved. She evidently was reasoning from past experience, and had heard nothing of our secret talks over my father's problem.

"I don't s'pose you could tell me a teeny weeny bit about the errand," she went on hopefully.

I hugged her again. She still was nestled close to me.

"I couldn't now," I said, "because I don't quite know what your grandfather wants. But after I come back, I may be able to tell you something about it. Will that do?"

"Of course, you never break your word," she said in a tone that was like an accolade to me.

Townsend Declares Third Party Needed

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 29—Old-age pension advocate Francis E. Townsend is in favor of a third political party in this country.

The father of the Townsend old-age security plan told members of the Associated Townsend Clubs of Cleveland last night that he had "cast my lot with the third party—for better or for worse."

A third party, the 80-year-old retired California physician said, is the only way to get congress to do something for the people.

5 DIE IN CRASHES OF SMALL PLANES

By The Associated Press

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 29 — The crash of a small plane brought death to three young men as they started out from their homes for a vacation flight to Miami, Fla.

Those killed in the crash yesterday were Aaron Bigan, 18, Robert Heichel, 22, and James Morey, 19, Coroner Paul L. Wills said.

Wills said there were no eyewitnesses but a farmer living near the scene said he heard an explosion before the plane struck the ground. The three victims had intended flying to Washington on the first leg of their trip, Wills said.

Trade Pact Signed By Russia and Britain

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 29—The Moscow radio says that under the terms of a trade pact signed Saturday in Moscow, Russia will send Britain 750,000 tons of course grain instead of the 500,000 tons of animal foodstuffs previously reported.

The radio quoted a Tass news agency dispatch as saying that Russia had guaranteed to deliver the grain between February and next September at "prices agreed upon" but not disclosed.

A spokesman for the British board of trade confirmed that the pact was signed, but declined to disclose its details.

OHIO TELEPHONE COMPANY

C. R. HOOK JR. GETS C. & O. PROMOTION

Special to The Star

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29—Election of Charles R. Hook Jr., as vice president in charge of personnel of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, effective Jan 1, announced today by Robert J. Kerr, C. & O president.

Hook, brought to the C. & O as personnel assistant to president on Jan. 15 1946, will succeed Edward D. Parrish, 70, of Richmond, Va., who will retire Dec. 31 under the company's retirement plan after 46 years' service with the road. The new vice president in charge of personnel will retain his headquarters in the Terminal tower, Cleveland.

Well known in the field of industrial and labor relations, Mr Hook came to the C. & O. from the Rustless Iron and Steel division of the American Rolling Mill company at Baltimore, Md., where he was assistant to the general manager.

In 1946 he was appointed a member of a seven-man advisory council to assist the war department general staff in personnel phases of the war department's reorganization. He also served as an industry member of the national war labor board, and as a management advisor for the training within industry division of the war manpower commission.

In 1944 he co-authored, with Lee H. Hill, a book titled "Management at the Bargaining Table."

As a member of the U. S. Mission of Labor Experts named by the state department, Mr. Hook spent several months in Bolivia in 1943, studying the strike situation in Bolivian tin mines.

TAHITIAN IN U.S. LONGS TO GO HOME

By The United Press

ST LOUIS—Tahiti is still the paradise it always has been, and Chief Charlie Maua of the Pacific island can't see why anyone would want to live in the United States.

"Politics" United Nations" We cannot worry about such things" the six-foot two-inch islander said in halting English.

Then he gave his philosophy for happiness "Plant more I tell my people love more, and have more fun."

Charlie says it works.

"Swimming and outrigger canoeing and fishing There's plenty to eat everybody, he said happily.

Charlie is a direct descendant of the Polynesians who ruled the island when the famed mutineers from the Bounty came ashore. He was in the United States and for the first time visiting a friend Crescent Altman.

When asked if the Tahitian natives really wore sarongs, Charlie said, "Oh I put on sandals and the women wear dresses when we go to the city of Papeete, but otherwise one wears only a sarong Why more?"

Charlie, whose real name is Arutaurua Terutahi, admitted he likes the United States. "I like your ice cream and your buildings. And your girls are very nice, even if some of them put too much paint on their faces. Dorothy Lamour is very nice, and Rita Hayworth—ah!"

He owns a 400-acre plantation on the island that produces vanilla coconuts copra, grapefruit, bananas, oranges and a fruit called the Tahitian apple.

Asked why he was so anxious to return home, he quoted a line from the island's ancient love song "No matter how far you wander, you always think of Tahiti."

MARSHALL PLAN LABELS COME IN WIDE VARIETY

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 — The official title of the Marshall plan—European Recovery Program—is getting the usual Washington embellishments.

The contraction—"ERP"—was bad enough.

Then Rep Bartel J. Jonkman, (R) of Michigan, christened it "BERP"—snort for Bipartisan European Recovery Program.

Now some state department wags are calling themselves "TWERPS"—Technical Wizards on the European Recovery Program.

Not Favorably Considered

FOOTBALL Star Glenn Davis' request for release from active army duty has been returned marked, in the language of the adjutant general's office, "Not favorably considered." By virtue of his great record with the West Point teams, Davis had an opportunity to earn in five or six years as much as he might earn in a lifetime Army career, had the Army decided it could get along without him.

While Lieut. Davis merits sympathy, the Army's position is justifiable. Professional football is a big money game. For 10 or 11 games in a season, a star player earns well up in five figures. If Davis were granted his release, the Army would have to extend the same consideration to any other football star—and West Point has a lot of them. The day might come when it would be releasing graduating football players as a matter of routine.

By its action in the Davis case, the Army gives notice that it wants potential Army career men on its teams, not potential pro football players.

Snowbound

TWENTY-FIVE inches of snow immobilized New York City as thoroughly as if an enemy had besieged it. Such a storm wouldn't have seriously discommoded communities like Augusta, Me., or Edmonton, Alta., but New York will compute the cost in hundreds of thousands, if not millions of dollars.

Among the hardest hit were the veterans of the blizzard of '88. For years they have held regular meetings to talk over the big blow of '88, but from now on their hearts won't be in it, for this year's snowfall was five inches deeper than 1888's. The old-timers will say the '88 blizzard was a heavier, wetter snow, or that it drifted deeper or that it caved in more roofs, but their claims will have a hollow sound. This year's 25-inch snow has put the chill on grandiose memories of a day when snows were deeper and whiter.

Fair Judgment

THE argument over Franklin D. Roosevelt's wartime leadership has been given fresh fuel. Henry L. Stimson says the wartime president was "as good as one man could be—but one man was not enough to keep track of so vast an undertaking." That sounds like fair judgment. As secretary of war, Mr. Stimson was in a position to know.

Mr. Stimson confirms the common impression that his commander-in-chief had a dangerous amount of confidence in his judgment and a bad habit of making snap decisions. But others might reply that if the choice is between a man with too much confidence and one with too little—as it always seems to be—the United States was lucky to have the former in office during World War II.

Mr. Stimson says Mr. Roosevelt's death was caused by overwork during the war, but that could be argued. Perhaps his death was hastened by strain, but it does not follow that less work would have meant less strain. Here again, the Stimson war memoirs, while authoritative, cannot be conclusive as to Mr. Roosevelt's role. There is only one way to settle such arguments—to wait for the verdict of time, which can't be handed down until it is known once and for all who really won the war, a matter that may begin to clear up in another 50 or 100 years.

The Curtain Falls

THE year's end concludes the activities of the United Service Organizations, which at one time had more than 10,000 entertainers scattered across the world wherever the American Flag flew.

The USO was a worthy enterprise carried out with the typical resourcefulness of show people. It took luminaries of stage, screen and radio to the war fronts and provided entertainment and recreation in drab, overcrowded Army post towns. It gave entertainers an opportunity to serve in the manner for which they were best fitted. Many USO shows were surprisingly expert. Even the less pretentious broke the monotony of service life.

That the USO did its job well is a tribute to the six agencies which supported it—the Salvation Army, the National Catholic Community Service, the Y.W.C.A., the Y.M.C.A., the National Jewish Welfare Board and Travelers Aid.

Genius Is No Excuse

AMONG those who have risen to the defense of Hanns Eisler is Charlie Chaplin, who asked a dozen French writers to protest the Hollywood composer's possible deportation to Germany. One of the responses was from the poet Jean Cocteau, who asked, "If Eisler's music is good, who cares about his politics? Politics are dirty. Art is pure."

That isn't the way such matters are judged, not in Cocteau's France, not in the United States nor in Russia, of which Eisler speaks so highly. Men of genius are responsible to society just as are the less gifted. If Eisler entered this country on perjured declaration to the immigration board, the fact that he is versed in musical theory and counterpoint doesn't excuse him.

Freedom of Movement

By George E. Sokolsky

Vast Areas Underpopulated, Yet Millions Homeless.

IT USED to be that when anyone was unhappy wherever he found himself, he somehow managed to go elsewhere. That is how this country got its population. Pilgrim, Puritan, Quaker, Huguenot, Mennonite, Amish, Moravians, Catholics in Maryland, the Cavaliers in the south, the scourings of debtors' prisons, the hungry Irish, the German revolutionaries, Jews from Surinam and from Poland and Rumania and everywhere—the weary, the heavy-laden, searchers for justice and opportunity—they all came to America and made this cosmopolite race, the greatest body of human beings in all the world today.

SOKOLSKY

Similarly such countries as Canada, Australia, South Africa and the Argentine were populated by importations of the mixed peoples of Europe. And even in Europe itself the movement of humanity across the continent has altered population strains. The Northmen are an example of that: They settled Normandy in France; they crossed to England under the mighty William; as Varangians, they gave strength to the blood of the Ottoman Turks; the scions of Rurik founded the house of Romanoff that for centuries gave Russia her czars. And into all the peoples of Europe were mixed Asiatic and African strains, the Turkomans and Uigurlains in the north and central Europe, the Moors and Turks in the southern and Mediterranean countries.

Millions Now Homeless

Now there are about 2,800,000 homeless persons in Europe who have no place to go. They cannot move on their own because governments have grown so powerful that they have to control everything, including the rigid control of the movements of peoples. Free migration of peoples has, as Herrymon Maurer so aptly put it in "Fortune," ended, as the changes have occurred from "free trade to quotas, from free business to state enterprise, from a measure of personal freedom to an overdose of state control." There is no such thing as a place of asylum. Nor is it because the earth has been filled; there is plenty of room.

Alaska, Canada, Australia, the Guianas, Brazil, Argentina, Madagascar, Kenya and other places in Africa, vast areas of the Soviet Union and parts of the United States are underpopulated. But even areas that need people, need strong, working populations, that want "white" population, restrict entrance.

Maurer estimates that in the Nineteenth century more than 60,000,000 people left Europe; of these about 38,000,000 came to the United States. But in the twentieth century we face the problem of caring in all this world for less than 3,000,000 homeless and displaced persons and we don't know what to do about it. These bulky governments have twisted themselves into knots of administration which wraps ideas in thick parchment to be buried in the tomb of bureaucratic ineptitude. Problems that have for centuries solved themselves take on monstrous forms in the weary imaginations of permanent officials who fear the different and cave before the serious.

Homeless Victims of War

But human beings are homeless. They are homeless because there was a war. They are the residual victims of the war. They cannot return to the places of their birth because a brutal force has taken over there. They are unwanted.

Let us be frank about it: Shall we murder them? It would be cheaper to kill them than to keep them. Shall the statisticians give you figures on that? We might even kill them in large quantities, say a hundred or a thousand at a time.

Are you horrified? Does the conscience twinge? Perhaps you will be less squeamish if it were, as it is, a slow death in concentration camps. A slow death for forgotten human beings. Maybe that makes it easier to think about. Or maybe you don't want to think about it at all.

But the fact remains that about 3,000,000 human beings, men, women and children, Balts, Serbs, Yugoslavs, Germans, Bohemians, Catholics, Protestants, and Jews and maybe agnostics and atheists, are homeless. Must they ever remain homeless and idle and hungry? Can they never tend a piece of ground or work at a machine or improve their minds? Are they never again to stand erect, head high and spirit firm in the God-given dignity of man?

Who is so sure of himself that he dares sentence another to such a life?

Natural Beauties

Naturally To Be Irked

Representative Landis of Indiana has introduced a bill exempting cosmetics from federal excise taxes on the grounds that they are not a luxury but a necessity.

Why the unchivalrous old goat!

Is he implying that school-girl complexion isn't natural....not even on school-girls?

Has he forgotten the nineteenth amendment? Or does he think he's strong enough to be reelected without the feminine vote.

The modern woman had rather let her husband pay that extra 20 per cent forever than have congress give official recognition to the fact that most modern complexions are of bleaches and creams.

Yes sir, if Congressman Landis doesn't issue a hasty retraction, the next time he runs his name is going to be scratched from many a ballot....with an eyebrow pencil.

House Acquires New Power

By Walter Lippmann

ONE of the unforeseen but far-reaching consequences of the foreign aid program is a change in the operation of our constitutional system.

The lower house of congress has become a full partner with the senate, at times the dominant partner, in the conduct of our foreign relations. For money bills must originate in the house.

Whereas treaties need ratification only by the senate, money can be appropriated only by vote of both houses. American diplomacy in this postwar era requires money in amounts which are altogether unprecedented.

LIPPMANN

The house of representatives, which has what is known as the power of the purse, has thus acquired a power in diplomacy which is unprecedented and never was envisaged by the authors of the constitution.

That the house is conscious of its new power was shown by the formation of the Herter committee, and many others. In the summer more than 200 congressmen went abroad to prepare themselves for their new responsibilities.

In the interim aid bill, enacted a few weeks ago, we may see the first fruits. Such a bill could never have been passed so promptly had the two houses not understood the need for it.

But this bill, as it was modified by the house, shows also, as might have been expected, that it takes time and experience to learn how to exercise new power.

One of the things that will have to be learned is that in dealing with countries like France and Great Britain, congress is dealing in the last analysis with the French national assembly and the house of commons.

Thus when congress sets down the conditions under which it is willing to authorize foreign aid, these conditions have to be ratified by the French and the British parliaments.

It is not enough that congress should make the law governing the aid; the same law has to be enacted in each country receiving the aid.

Congress stipulated in the interim bill that "an agreement should be entered into, subject to the limitations and provisions of this act, between such countries and the United States."

Job for Legislatures

These agreements cannot be made by the foreign offices; they have to be ratified by the legislatures. Therefore, the question can arise, in fact has arisen in France, how far a foreign legislature can and will enact laws, not after equal terms already set down by congress.

This is a delicate and dangerous question which congress, which is rightly jealous of its own prerogatives, readily will understand if the congressmen will put themselves in the place of a member of the French national assembly now or later, when the full Marshall plan comes along, or the house of commons.

Suppose we were so desperately in need of help that we could not guarantee out of our own resources a meager ration of bread for the rest of the winter. And then suppose that the French national assembly offered us help but stipulated that congress must first pass laws initiated in the French national assembly. Even if they were good laws, even if they were laws we intended to pass anyway, it would be a bitter pill to swallow.

How would we like to be asked to sign an agreement, which has to be ratified by congress, that we shall (Sec. 5, C) use "all available media" (including government press and radio) to "inform the ultimate consumers as to the purpose, source, character and amounts of commodities."

No Compulsory Gratitude

We should not find it easy to pass a law for compulsory gratitude.

Nor would our feelings of gratitude be more spontaneous if we had to pass a law saying (Sec. 5, E) that we shall make the foreign commodities "available" to our people at reasonable prices."

We should feel we need not be told by a foreign legislature that we ought to treat ourselves fairly. Nor should we care to have to enact a law saying that "where necessary" we shall "distribute to indigent and needy persons their

The Zone of War—III

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON—Secretary Marshall has told us that there is only one way out of the zone of war, into which Soviet policy has brought the whole world. There must first be a "genuine settlement," which will then be "reflected" in a paper "agreement." And the essential requirement for this "genuine settlement" is to fill the political and economic vacuum that is now western Europe. In previous reports, the objectives and methods of Soviet policy have been examined. What are the requirements of the answering Western policy thus announced by Secretary Marshall?

ALSOP

In tactical terms, the policy is first to hold our own line, and then to launch a flank attack. On this plan, the major Western powers, Britain, France and the United States, have now united under American leadership. And what makes the plan possible at all is the promise of American resources to finance and support it.

More specifically, the war has left a condition in western Europe which constitutes a standing temptation to the Soviets—a vacuum which the Soviets wish to fill. Economic dislocation has led to political and social deterioration in every western European nation, and especially in the three most important, France, Italy and Germany.

It is intensely misleading to become optimistic because the Germans are now anti-Communist, or because the French and Italians have just repelled the first Communist assaults upon the integrity of their states. Even in the present case, the French and Italian governments would hardly have had the self-confidence to meet the Communist challenge if the European interim aid bill had not assured them of bread and fuel for their people.

Situation Worsened

At the same time, the recent crises have actually worsened the underlying economic situation in France and Italy. If strong measures are not taken to reverse the trend, economic misery must eventually drive the French and Italian peoples to the desperate remedies of desperate men—to acceptance of the totalitarianism of the Right or of the Left. If either France or Italy goes, the whole European structure will collapse. But strong measures to rehabilitate France, Italy, Germany and the rest of western Europe are now proposed, in the form of the European Recovery Program or Marshall plan. This is the key to the future.

By rehabilitating western Europe, we shall hold our own line, and greatly lessen the temptation to the Soviets to strike across it. By the same token, as the situation stands, we shall also launch a flank attack on the Soviet position.

The Kremlin has now undertaken total incorporation into the Soviet sphere of all of eastern Europe. Some of the peoples in this area, like the unhappy Czechs have known full freedom. All, except the Germans under Hitler, have known more freedom than prevails in Russia. What is more important still, all in varying degrees have been accustomed to a far higher level of life than the Russians.

Purges Already Started

The effect of total incorporation into the Soviet sphere will be, however, to reduce eastern Europe almost to the Russian level, both politically and economically. The Kremlin may not wish this to occur. But it will hardly be able to help itself. The signs are clear, even now. After all, last year's "Pravda" and "Izvestia" editorials about the virtues of the new "progressive tendencies," the purges to destroy all shadow of eastern European opposition are already starting. On the economic side, there is the advantage for the Soviets that eastern Europe is a surplus food producing region (as Russia used to be). Yet in eastern Germany overwhelming economic problems have long ago arisen, and in the rest of the region there seems to be trouble ahead.

The flank attack planned by the West will, of course, consist of the comparison between political and economic conditions in western and eastern Europe. If the comparison is strongly favorable, western Europe will then magnetically attract the eastern Europe countries within the Soviet sphere. Thus the power balance will be doubly altered, by a great accession of strength in the west, and by the creation of serious difficulties for the Soviets in the east. Such an alteration of the power balance is what is implied in Secretary Marshall's reference to a "genuine settlement." The power balance always determines all political settlements. The purpose of negotiation is to put on paper both sides' understanding of the nature of the power balance. But the nature of the power balance must first be clear.

Vital Point

This, then, is the underlying reasoning and plan of the western leaders. This is the explanation of the present concentration on Europe. One more point is vital, however. The border between the Soviet and Western worlds is not in Europe only. It runs from the Baltic to the China sea. And whereas the West has the best chance of turning the Soviet flank in Europe, the Soviets have the best chance of turning the Western flank in the eastern Mediterranean, the Middle East or the Far East. Thus, while the main effort is made in the European theater, it is also absolutely necessary to hold firm in Greece and Turkey, Iran and Iraq, China and Korea, and the other points where Soviet attacks may be pressed home.

The task is immense. It will be costly. But cost is nothing, since freedom or enslavement, misery or prosperity, life or death, hang upon the outcome.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The White House Pooch

THE White House has a dog. It's a cocker spaniel sent to the President and Mrs. Truman for Christmas. No longer may it be said of the trials and tribulations that come to White House occupants "They shouldn't happen to a dog."

* * *

But being the First Dog of the Land can't be so soft. If the President rolls on the floor with him, the Republicans will call him juvenile.

PHILLIPS

If Mrs. Truman asks the butcher for a little extra meat for the pup, it may mean a scandal. It could even put the pooch on the witness stand before a Congressional subcommittee.

And look at all the strange people a White House dog has to get used to! How many of them can unbend, shake off their dignity and act as if they loved dogs. Suppose the pooch bit a Russian envoy? War!

What chance has a dog for much attention around the White House? Certainly not much from the cabinet, which is always in a state of flux. Clint Anderson can't show enough interest in a pup to feed it something in times like these. W. Averell Harriman can't be expected to shake off inflation cares long enough to toss a rubber ball around for the animal.

Schwellenbach is too busy on labor matters. And Tom Clark would no more than get a pup into his lap before he would have to put it down to file some more anti-trust suits.

Jim Forrestal can't be expected to put aside the atomic bomb, jet plane, secret weapon and general preparedness problem to throw sticks for a pooch.

And what freedom does a dog have in the White House? How can he shake off the worry that the bed he jumps all over may be Abraham Lincoln's? Suppose the chair leg he chews up is in the Blue Room?

Pup, you have our sympathy. There's no fun playing with an amendment, chasing a resolution or watching the boss rehearse a radio speech.

* * *

The dog-talk is apt to be pretty trying, too.... "Does nice iddle doggie-woggy wanna nice, big loan?...."Sit up, Snookum-Okums and beg for 550 millions?"...."Speak, and master will give 'em interim aid!....Woof!"

AFTER CHRISTMAS

Popper's in the hospital,
His chance is somewhat narrow;
For Christmas he gave all his kids
A nice big bow and arrow!

The house is dark, the fuses blown:
The bulbs are out again;
Oh, Junior had a lovely time
With his electric train!

The bathroom is a soggy sight—
Like no dry place on land;
Junior's toy boats frolic there....
The fleet is in command!

Mother's flat upon her back;
She's very low becuz
She bore the brunt of Christmas work—
As every mother does.

We know a fellow who had a frightful nightmare. He dreamed that after years of effort he finally got the jackpot in a quarter machine and the coins came out in rubles.

President Truman says he will be glad to meet with Stalin if he will come to Washington. Nonsense! Joe doesn't know a soul in Russia he can trust that long.

Year-End Review

By Truman Twill

Arches fell and tempers rose. There was a slight falling-off around the middle of August in the index of saline content. Restoratives were administered and the situation grew better.

The marshmallow market remained soft throughout the year. This was offset, however, by a gradual hardening of the arteries. It was a buyer's market for automobiles throughout the last 12 months. Pocketbooks sagged.

Ice remained firm. Important undercover work was done in the nation's coal mines. More than an ordinary amount of speculation in futures was noted in the statistics of marriage. There was lively interest in females, tapering off toward the close of the year as the long look loomed on the horizon.

The international situation grew more complex and was reflected in hesitancy in such vital centers as Podunk, Mo. But no less an authority than Babber Rodgson has pointed out that the situation in Podunk, as it grew more complex, also was reflected in hesitancy in such vital centers as Lake Success.

Turkey hit the spot twice during the year—Nov. 27 and Dec. 25. Distillers took a holiday, but no one noticed it; their business continued in a highly liquid condition. It proved difficult to make a dent in steel, but bananas proved pliable.

Shortages were noted in the pants of growing boys and the dresses of very small girls. There was considerable sagging in mature issues that had been kicking around in the market places for a long time. Airplanes went higher, but oil drilling equipment sank out of sight.

It seemed to be the feeling of a majority of well-informed guessers as the year drew to a close that next year will be the same, only worse. Here and there, meanwhile, improvements will be registered. There will be bull markets in sensitive political stocks and speculators will be wise not to sell Taft, Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen and Eisenhower short. Stick with the old-line railroads and Associated Taffy for the long pull. There will be the usual flotations of shares in the Brooklyn Bridge.

Lemons may turn sour if squeezed too hard. Graphite can be written off. Chickens will take a flyer. Nobody can be sure what will happen in Politburo. Parnell Thomas will operate in the red.

National Cash Register will be active, Alcoholics Anonymous will make a comeback, Foundations Inc. will dig in, and Drills Ltd. will bear down where it hurts. It's a good gamble that money will change hands, and Armed will give you a run for your dollars.

There will continue to be plenty of money to be made by those who know how to make it and plenty to be lost by those who can't hold on to it. At the end of the year, one thing is certain. There will be another year.

Get Drink from Ocean

By The Associated Press

SYDNEY, Australia—In many places off the east coast of Australia, you can dip fresh water from the ocean. The explanation is that much of the rain that falls on the coast seeks down to a layer of impervious rock and the underground streams flow along the rock, often emerging under the sea.

Piping an officer or notable aboard a ship is believed to have originated in sailing days when visitors often had to be hoisted aboard in a boatswain's chair in heavy weather and the pipe was used to signal the men handling the ropes.

CENTRAL Christian church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Barbara Louise Hedges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hedges of 184 Wildwood court and John R. Johnston, son of Mrs. Orpha Johnston of 1062 Wilson avenue, Sunday afternoon. For the ceremony the altar was lighted with tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra and palms formed the background for a large basket filled with white chrysanthemums. Completing the decorations were large white satin bows marking the pews. The pastor, Rev. Eldred Johnston, officiated for the service read at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Hedges escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her gown of Chantilly lace over white taffeta was fashioned with an off-the shoulder effect created by a deep sheer yoke outlined with a wide bertha of the same material, long fitted sleeves extending into points at the hands, and the full skirt gathered to a long bodice, ended in a circular train. For the traditional something borrowed the bride wore a fingertip veil of English illusion held in place with a Mary Queen of Scots cap edged in orange blossoms and seed pearls, belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. J. Hedges. For something old she chose a diamond pendant worn by her mother at her own wedding. Her colonial bouquet of white roses was centered with a white orchid and showered with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Harry E. Rice was the matron of honor and the bride's sister, Miss Eleanor Jane Hedges, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Rice wore a gown of deep turquoise taffeta fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and bertha, and the full skirt was accented with a bustle in the back. Miss Hedges' gown of gold taffeta was styled similar to that worn by Mrs. Rice, and both carried Colonial bouquets of Talisman roses. Little Judith Lynn Kennedy and Barbara Coller, cousins of the bride, wearing white taffeta dresses fashioned similar to the bride's gown, were the flower girls. They carried small baskets filled with rose petals. All the attendants wore ostrich plumes matching the shades of their gowns in their hair.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. J. Hedges, and Mrs. Hugh W. Johnston, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, wearing taffeta gowns in a blue haze shade and styled similar to the bride's, lighted the candles. They wore hair arrangements of ostrich plumes matching their gowns and wrist corsages of gardenias.

Hugh W. Johnston, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushering were J. J. Hedges, the bride's brother, Richard Mulvaine and Harry E. Rice.

The bride's mother was costumed in a dress in a royal blue shade with matching hat and black accessories. Her flowers were gardenias in a corsage. Mrs. Johnston wore a gray costume with brown accessories and her flowers were red roses.

Mrs. Virgil Curl played a half hour program of organ music and Mrs. Eugene H. Moore sang as the guests were being seated. The organ selections included "I Love Thee," Grieg, "Liebestraum," Liszt, "Clair de Lune," Debussy, "Estrellita," Ponce, "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, "Indian Love Call," Friml. Mrs. Moore's selections were "Because," D'Hardelot and "Oh, Promise Me," DeKoven.

A reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The bride's table, lighted with tall white tapers in crystal holders, held a tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Assisting were Mrs. James E. Elliott of Columbus, Mrs. Carl Marble, Mrs. John Gries, Mrs. M. L. Wilson, Mrs. William Tucker, Mrs. Frank Harrold, Mrs. Avis Clark, Mrs. James R. Jobe, Mrs. C. W. Weber and Miss Joy Kline.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing an aqua wool tailored dress with brown accessories. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a moonstone brooch and earrings and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will make their home at 1062 Wilson avenue.

Both Mr. Johnston and his bride are graduates of Harding High school. Mrs. Johnston is a member of Beta chapter, Gradale sorority and is employed at the Marion Engineer Depot. Since his discharge from the U. S. Navy Mr. Johnston has been associated with the Quaker Oats Co.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Miss Geraldine Hedges of Cleveland; L. D. Hedges of Vermillion; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hedges of Canton; Mr. and Mrs. James Celler and family and Frank Kintner of Adrian, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sunday of Bucyrus; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lawson of Richwood; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wilson of Kalamazoo, Mich.; Miss Virginia Pauling of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webb and son Eddie of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heffley and daughter Sandra of Toledo; Miss Eleanor Hedges of Berkeley, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Smith of Defiance, and Mrs. James Wolfe of Cincinnati.

Weddings

Prospect Street Methodist church was the scene of the wedding Sunday, Dec. 14, of Miss Marian Gooding, daughter of Mrs. Helen Wires of 452 Windsor street, and Loren L. Starner, son of Mrs. Minnie Starner of northwest of Marion. The couple repeated their vows in a double ring ceremony at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the altar decorated with ferns, bouquets of chrysanthemums and lighted white tapers in two seven branch candelabra. Rev. Henry Maag, pastor, officiated, and the custom of open church was observed.

A program of nuptial music was presented preceding the ceremony by Mrs. Robert Rice, organist, and William Heinrich Jr. of Cleveland, soloist. Mrs. Rice's selections included "At Dawning," Cadman, "Always," Berlin, "Indian Love Call," Friml, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert, "Clair de Lune," Debussy, "Ave Maria," Gounod and "My God and I," Sergei. Songs by Mr. Heinrich were "Because," D'Hardelot, "I Love You Truly," Bond, and "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her uncle, Paul Weber, was attired in a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls. The moulded bodice buttoned down the back and the sleeves ended in points at the hands. The full skirt, accented with a pearl trimmed peplum at the hips, extended into a long train. Her fingertip veil was of white lace and her only jewelry was three strand pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Miss Joan Schertzer, maid of honor and the bride's only attendant, wore a gown in an aqua shade with a headband of white mums and roses. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Miss Barbara Ann Wires, sister of the bride, wearing a gown of rose faille and a headband of white mums, lighted the candles.

Carrol Starner, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Seating the guests in pews marked with white satin bows were Richard Weber, Bernard Brooks and Earl Miller.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wires chose a black dress with which she combined black accessories. Mrs. Starner was also costumed in black with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of baby mums.

A reception in the church social rooms followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Boyd, Mrs. John Boyd, Mrs. Carrol Starner, Mrs. Earl Miller, Mrs. Fred P. Haas and Miss Laura Gabler. When the couple left on a short wedding trip, Mrs. Starner was wearing a gold colored dress with which she combined brown accessories and a brown fur coat. Pinned at her shoulder was a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet. The couple are now residing at Mr. Starner's home northwest of Marion.

Following the rehearsal Saturday evening, the bride's mother entertained with a spinster party at her home and Bernard Brooks was host at a bachelor's party at his home on Thew avenue. Miss Gooding presented her attendant with a rhinestone bracelet, and Mr. Starner gave his best man and ushers billfolds and ties.

Mrs. Starner is a graduate of Libbey High school in Toledo and, prior to her marriage, was employed in the office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for three years. Mr. Starner was graduated from Morral High school in 1938 and is engaged in farming.

Guests from out of the city were from Toledo, Cleveland, Tiffin, Dayton, Mt. Vernon, Milwaukee, Wis., New Bloomington and LaRue.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Ann Armbruster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Armbruster of Caledonia, formerly of Marion, to John Frederick Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Price of 206 Carhart street. The double ring ceremony took place Dec. 15 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening in the rectory of the St. Mary Catholic church, and Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., officiated. Only the immediate families attended.

A program of nuptial music was presented preceding the ceremony by Miss Patricia Moore, pianist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white wool jersey dress with gold sequin trim, with which she combined black and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. Miss Betty Jane Morse, as maid of honor, wore a light blue wool jersey dress with gold sequin trim and brown and white accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white carnations.

Little Miss Evelyn Price, in a pink crepe dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage, and Master Joseph Armbruster, sister and brother of the bridegroom and bride, respectively, were ring bearers.

Richard Houk served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Armbruster chose a black dress accented with a pink faille yoke. Mrs. Price wore a royal blue dress with silver sequin trim. Each wore a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 75 guests at the home of the bride's parents immediately followed the ceremony. The couple are making their home at 310 East Church street in Marion.

A wedding ceremony Christmas morning in the Trinity Lutheran church in Ashland united in marriage Miss Juanita Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Patrick of 214 Fies avenue, and Clare Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Bush of Ashland. The double ring ceremony was read at 9 o'clock before the candlelighted altar by Dr. H. H. Lentz, pastor. Only members of the immediate families attended.

The bride was attired in a street length dress of toffee-colored Shisha crepe with which she combined chocolate brown accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hammond of near Ashland. Mrs. Hammond was attired in a street length dress of aqua crepe with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Bush was graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1940, and attended Office Training school in Columbus, and Marion Business college. For the last two years, she has been executive secretary to F. S. McNeal, vice president and general manager of the Universal Cooler Division of International Detrola Corporation. Marine Corps in which he served two years in the Pacific Area with the Fourth Marine Division. He is now a patrolman on the Ashland police force.

the intense cold. The engines cut out but both plane and glider made "beautiful" landings in 10 feet of snow, Air Force officials said.

Wind Buffets Paratrooper

One paratrooper of the trip, dropped through a dense "snow fog," was blown more than two miles from the wreckage and was forced to snowshoe to the crash scene.

Another C-45 ski plane was forced down by engine trouble "some distance" from the crash scene, officials reported.

Attempts by two four-man "weasels"—the Army's tractor-type snow vehicles—to reach the wreckage ended when one of the machines fell through the ice on the Nome river and treacherous ice and snow forced the other to turn back.

Two native dog teams which left Nome early Sunday were believed still pushing slowly through the snow fog toward the uncharted mountain, whose height is estimated at approximately 1,000 feet.

1947 Ohio Farm Cash Income Reaches Near Record Billion

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—Cash income of Ohio farmers hit close to a record $1,000,000,000 this year, a gain of more than 25 per cent over 1946, agriculture department figures indicated today.

The yield of many important state crops was down in many instances, but higher prices more than balanced lower production.

Farm costs, however, also went up. The agriculture department estimates they mounted more than 16 per cent through the nation in the last year, continuing an upward spiral that started in 1939.

Cash receipts to Buckeye State farmers from marketings in the first 10 months of the year totaled $846,000,000. Of this amount $615,000,000 came from livestock and livestock products and $230,800,000 from crops.

The total compares to $669,000,000 in the similar period last year, which broke down to $467,800,000 for livestock and products and $201,600,000 for crops.

The $1,000,000,000 estimates is based on average income for the first 10 months. November and December figures have not yet been published.

Acreage Lower

More than 10,150,000 acres, excluding duplication, were devoted to raising 52 principal crops in the state, most of this to corn, wheat, oats and hay. The acreage was 40,000 below the 10-year average through 1945 but ranked 13th in the country.

Only wheat production of the four crops exceeded last year. Corn, oats and hay showed a decrease. The picture in brief on each of these important crops:

Corn: yield, 138,826,000 bushels, sixth highest in the nation. Yield last year, 178,409,000 bushels. Yield per acre declined from 49 to 41 bushels. Acreage harvested, 3,386,000, against 3,641,000 last year.

Wheat: Yield, 49,028,000 bushels, 19th in the country. Yield last year, 48,522,000. Yield per acre declined from 26.5 bushels to 22.5, acreage harvested, 2,179,000, compared to 1,831,000 in 1946. Winter wheat seeded, 2,323,000 acres with estimated yield of 46,460,000 bushels.

Oats: Yield, 19,058,000 bushels, 16th in the nation. Yield last year, 62,235,000. Yield per acre declined from 45 bushels to 26. Acreage harvested, 733,000, against 1,383,000 in 1946.

Hay: Yield, 3,602,000 tons, 11th in the nation. Yield last year, 3,895,000. Yield per acre declined from 1.54 to 1.4 tons. Acreage harvested 2,570,000, compared to 2,536,000 last year.

Soybeans On Increase

Soybeans took a more important position in the state, with 1,000,000 acres turned over to this crop, an average of 30,000 over 1946, and 70,000 more than the 10-year average to 1945. The crop totaled 17,575,000 bushels, against 16,254,000 last year, with the yield per acre up half a bushel to 18.5.

Other grains and seed production, with last year's yield immediately following in parenthesis: Barley, 390,000 bushels (502,000); Rye, 510,000 (289,000); buskwheat, 651,000 (340,000); popcorn, 6,240,000 pounds (27,495,000);

Red clover seed, 58,000 bushels (223,000); alsike clover seed, 24,000 (44,000); alfalfa seed, 3,400 (4,200); sweet clover seed, 50,000 (36,000); timothy seed, 243,000 (198,000).

Important truck crops such as potatoes and sugar beets showed a big drop under 1946. Potato production was down to 5,460,000 bushels, against 7,560,000 last year and a 10-year average to 1945 of 9,539,000. Beet production was 158,000 short tons, compared to 234,000 in 1946.

INDUSTRY TO AID STEEL ALLOCATION

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29—Spokesmen for the industry "indicate willingness to cooperate fully with the government" in the voluntary allocation of steel, the Magazine Steel reported today.

If government plans for allocation of scarce materials, "iron and steel have been given priority," it said, and these "will likely set the pace for other short-supply materials."

It is expected "a number of steel officials, active in government allocation work during the war, will return to Washington for a time as it is understood the government plans to resurrect some wartime allocation procedures," the magazine continued.

On Jan. 8 a meeting of 15 leading steel representatives with commerce department officials will "develop a program designed to channel steel to essential uses, prevent leaks to the gray market, and increase production," it said.

"Steel mill and foundry operations are hampered by shortage of metallics, chiefly pig iron and scrap. The situation is especially acute with respect to scrap," Steel said. "The price stalemate in scrap continues with suppliers marking time pending resumption of large buying by the steel mills."

The national steelmaking rate dropped 11 points last week to 86 per cent of rated capacity, though the "seasonal factor had only a negligible effect on blast furnace operations."

CONVICT BOOKED. Eugene Earp (above), 26, sits in sheriff's office in county jail at Salinas, Calif., where he is booked after he and another escaped convict, Hershel Graham, 26, shot it out with officers Christmas day near San Ardo, Calif. fair share of all available food supplies."

Compulsory fairness, compulsory charity, like compulsory gratitude, would somehow stick in our throats. We might even feel—even if we were too poor to give ourselves the privilege of saying it—that if our foreign friends would do unto us as they would wish us to do unto them, there would be more charity, more fairness, and more gratitude at a time when they are very much needed.

Let us hope the European countries, when they examine this bill and think of it as the prototype of the Marshall plan, will not misunderstand it.

It is not, as they might readily think and as the Communist propaganda surely will proclaim from the housetops, a deliberate attempt to invade and usurp the sovereign prerogatives of foreign governments.

It is a blunder, arising from the inexperience of the lower house in the field of foreign relations where hitherto it has had no comparable responsibility.

The house meant only to safeguard legitimate American interests and rights. But it failed to realize that conditions, which it could attach to appropriations to be spent in America by Americans, cannot automatically be applied to foreign nations and soverign governments. With them conditions can be negotiated. They cannot, as in this legislation, be set unilaterally—take it or leave it.

When all allowances and explanations have been made, the fact remains that the European recovery program will produce indescribable trouble if congress writes into it stipulations which, however good in themselves, no independent, above all no democratically elected, government can accept from a foreign power.

There is an issue of deep principle here which will have to be defined and will have to be met.

WALL CRUMBLES AS FIREMEN FIGHT BLAZE. Streams of water are played on flaming downtown Philadelphia warehouse from street and roofs across the street. Debris from the crumbling wall fell on a fire engine, injuring three firemen. Other fire fighters escaped injury as the flaming wall hit a live trolley wire which fell across another engine, charging it with electricity. Firemen from 40 engine companies fought the four-and-half-hour blaze in which damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

Philadelphia Hit By 4 Major Fires

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 29—Philadelphia's fourth major fire within 24 hours—coming in the wake of a heavy snowfall that hampered the efforts of firemen—destroyed five industrial buildings and damaged a half dozen adjoining structures with a loss estimated at $1,000,000.

The latest blaze yesterday—bringing to about $1,500,000 the damage caused by major fires in the 24-hour period—struck in a downtown manufacturing district interspersed with such historic landmarks as Christ church, a half block from the scene, and the house occupied by Betsy Ross when she made the first American flag, 200 yards away.

The destroyed buildings — all five-story structures — contained the quarters of a score of firms, including clothing companies, shoe, electrical appliance and printing concerns.

Nine of the 400 firemen summoned to the scene were injured, two of them sustaining leg fractures in the collapse of a wall.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free. No Appointment Needed.

1947 IS YEAR OF COLD WAR

1948 Likely To See East and West Renew Efforts To Expand Influence.

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 29—The year that is waning will be remembered in Europe as the year that brought the "cold war" between east and west.

The year that lies ahead, western Europe feels, may bring the decision in that war.

The year 1948, in the minds of European diplomats, is bound to see the implementation of both Russia and the western democracies of plans to develop their respective spheres—politically, socially and economically.

Western Europe's statesmen think this rivalry will serve either as healthy competition which will improve the lot of the common man on both sides, or it will be the prelude to war.

Before the year is out, France—and possibly the Benelux countries: (Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg) may have joined the United States and Britain in joint control and development of western Germany.

This plan might also involve an "Atlantic alliance" of historic importance.

The present French government and Gen. Charles De Gaulle want the United States to conclude its proposed 40-year security pact against Germany on a three-power instead of a four-power basis.

Safeguard for Europe

Purpose of such a move would be to safeguard western Europe not only from any danger of future German aggression, but also from any Russian attack across Germany.

As for the old year, European observers believe historians will record it as one of the most fateful 12 months in modern times. Most outstanding events of 1947 are listed in the order of their important bearing on humanity as follows:

1—Breakdown of active cooperation between Russia and the western powers that was forged during the war, thus splitting the world into two opposing camps;

2—Enunciation of the Truman doctrine and the Marshall plan. The first was designed to check Soviet military expansionism; the second to curb the spread of Communism through chaos by restoring economic stability in western Europe;

3—Severe set-back suffered by Communism in western Europe by its failure to triumph in the first open bid for the balance of power in France and Italy;

4—Beginning of the decline and fall of the British empire through the granting of independence to India and the decision to withdraw from Palestine;

5—Consolidation of Soviet control in the satellite countries through the ruthless suppression of political opposition in Poland, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria;

6—Defacto partition of Germany between east and west;

7—Open revival of the comintern as an active instrument of Soviet foreign policy;

Dangerous Development

Most decisive and dangerous development of the old year in the opinion of Europe's seasoned diplomats came when Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov pushed back his chair from the conference table at the Luxembourg palace in Paris last June 5 and walked out on the Marshall plan.

By that act, the Kremlin's rulers are considered to have thrown down the gauntlet for a gigantic world struggle between the liberal and democratic civilization of the west and the Soviet totalitarian conception of a new civilization in the east.

Led by the United States, the western Democracies have accepted the challenge. Europe in 1948 will be the scene of the first great test in this contest between the collossus forces of east and west over what sort of social order shall prevail in the world.

USE RADAR IN METEOR STUDY

Canadian Astronomer Describes Results Before American Society.

first scientific presenta... results obtained from a ... carried out last August in ... came from Dr Peter M. ... of the Dominion ob... Ottawa, in a report pre... for the society's opening ... on sessions here.

...e observations were con... ed of importance not only to ...merce and industry, but also ...estern hem sphere defense in ...ning additional information about physical and chemical conditions of the upper atmosphere

Shooting stars known as the Perseids swarm above the earth in the ionosphere, about 50 to 70 miles up in the maximum frequency about the middle of August each year Before the advent of the V-2 rocket man never had actively explored this superstratosphere

Fine as Grains of Sand

Dr Millman described the bodies of these meteors as not much bigger than grains of sand. Shooting towards the earth they burn themselves out in the atmosphere but kick up bright clouds of electrically charged particles that reflect radio waves.

Dr Millman collaborated with D W R McKinley of the National Research Council of Canada and Miriam S Burland of the dominion observatory in the meteor project The research council designed and set up a radar station four miles south of Ottawa with McKinley in charge of the radar set At Luskville, Quebec, 22 miles away, Dr. Millman operated a secondary visual and photographic station

On five nights from Aug 9 to Aug 14, during 30 hours of observation, 3,700 radar echoes, 1,100 visual meteors and 20 meteor photographs were recorded Six experienced observers plotted the path of each meteor to correlate radar and photographic records with the actual meteors in the sky.

Free Mail for Armed Services Nearing End

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—After midnight Wednesday, men and women of the armed services will have to pay for their first-class postage like everybody else

Since March 27, 1942, all they have had to do is write "free" in the upper right hand corner of the envelope, with their name, serial number and address in the left-hand corner.

The free mail law expires at the same moment 1947 passes out, but in the case of the law the expiration may not be permanent A bill by Rep Clason (R-Mass) to extend it two years is before the house armed services committee

One Fire Engine Theft Enough, Village Decides

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O, Dec. 29—Officials of the nearby village of Hubbard have taken steps to assure the fire engine won't be stolen again

Police Chief Earl Greer has ordered the fire station door locked from the inside and only members of the volunteer fire company will know the secret of how to get in

Allan Y Wright, 22, of Mercer, Pa was asleep on the seat when the 500-gallon pumper was recovered Saturday a mile and a half from the village

Mayor Joseph Baldine fined Wright $100 and costs and suspended a 30-day jail sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating the truck while under the influence of liquor.

Chief Greer said Wright entered the fire station early Saturday looking for the night marshal to assist him with his wrecked automobile.

When he found no one at the town hall, he sounded the bells and siren of the pumper and drove away, the chief reported. A village posse tracked the pumper by its tire tracks in the snow.

PREDICTS LESS MEAT PER PERSON IN 1948

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Dec 29—The American Meat Institute predicted today that in 1948 each American will have to be satisfied with 12 pounds less meat than he ate this year.

Per capita meat production, however, will be five pounds above the prewar average, the Institute said. This year the average American ate 156 pounds of meat, the largest per capita consumption in 36 years

In a year-end statement, John F Krey, chairman of the Meat Institute's board of directors, said this year's meat production totaled 23,200,000,000 pounds.

He estimated next year's production at 21,500,000,000 pounds Next year, he said, animals will be sent to market at lighter weights because of the need for conserving grain.

There will be less "finished" beef for choice cuts of meat Krey said He did not mention prices, but he said that "consumer purchasing power for meat is expected to remain at a high level in 1948"

Krey, who is executive vice president and general manager of the Krey Packing Co., St. Louis said confusion confronts the meat packing industry because of the threat of renewed rationing and price controls He warned against "liquidation of livestock to save grain

"Even now, when this country is engaged in a program to supply food for hungry people abroad livestock production does not reduce the food grain supply to any appreciable extent," he said "A distinction should be made between food grains, such as wheat, which provide human food and feed grains, such as corn, which provide feed for livestock"

Sesame oil is pressed from the seed of sesame indicum a plant cultivated since ancient times and serves virtually all the uses of both coconut and olive oils

TRUMAN TO ASK SPEEDUP ON RELIEF

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29—President Truman may appeal to congress in his forthcoming state of the union message to speed up its Marshall plan schedule to avert a possible spring crisis in Europe.

Mr. Truman is known to have been told by his Capitol Hill lieutenants that, under present circumstances, final congressional action on a long range European recovery program is not likely to come before the stop-gap relief law approved by the special session expires March 31.

Under the terms of this act, all commitments must be made before that date. Whether there is any money left for spring relief work depends on the rate at which it is spent during the winter.

In any event, the stoppage program applies only to France, Italy and Austria in Europe, leaving the needs of other countries unfilled until congress decides what it wants to do about the long-range proposal.

As evidence that there may be a spring crisis in Europe, administration experts point to developments in Greece. There the Communists have moved to convert their guerrilla fighting into a full-fledged civil war by setting up their own government which may get recognition from neighboring, Russian-dominated states.

The four-year, $17,000,000,000 aid plan which the President submitted to the special session on its closing day contemplates a start April 1 so there would be no gap between it and the relief program.

To meet this schedule as nearly as possible, the administration is expected to ask that any authorization legislation permit the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to advance funds until actual appropriations bills can be passed

GALION ANSWERS POWER PLANT SUIT

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 29—Answers to the taxpayer's suit against city officials and the city in connection with the purchase of a diesel generating unit for the municipal power plant of Galion, were filed late Saturday by acting-City Solicitor Robert L. Moulton, in the Crawford County court.

Answers were made on the behalf of City Auditor Gloyd Frye and the board of control comprising Mayor William Amann and Service Director K. A. Poister. In November the taxpayer's suit was filed by Attorney Kenneth M. Petri who charged that the purchase of the diesel was illegal. At that time a temporary injunction was issued restraining the defendants from consumating the purchase of the diesel.

On behalf of City Auditor Frye, the answers filed Saturday denied the charge that he had certified there were insufficient funds on hand for the city's payments of the $108,000 for diesel generating equipment. The answer stated that the city had in excess of $93,000 on hand to purchase this equipment plus additional revenue from operation of the municipal light plant.

On behalf of the mayor and service director, answers to charges made in Petri's suit are to the effect that they were trying to carry out the expressed will of council. That body had passed an ordinance for the issuance of $100,000 in bonds last January, and followed this with a resolution in March authorizing the service director to advertise for bids for the purchase of the diesel equipment. Answers stated that this legislation declared the necessity of such improvement to the plant, and that the mayor and service director were acting in good faith in an attempt to carry out the wishes of council in contracting for the purchase of this equipment.

Meanwhile it has been learned that the Fairbanks, Morse and Company of Chicago, from whom the diesel was ordered have offered to make a settlement with the city for $2,300. They made a previous offer of $4,600 in settlement for expenses in carrying out their part of the contract. The city had previously made a down payment of about $10,000 on the diesel. City officials state they will make no deal with the company until they learn their legal right in the matter.

Attorney Petri said today that he will stay with his original claims in his taxpayer's suit showing that the contract for the purchase of the diesel was not legally carried out, and the city does not have to purchase the equipment.

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR Zero Weather?

When the weather forecast says—"cold wave coming"—don't run the risk of having your water pipes burst.

Save yourself money and trouble by doing this:

- On freezing cold nights let a small stream—about a quart a minute—trickle from the faucet located highest in your house.

This simple precaution will cost very little but may save you expensive repairs and damage to your property.

DO THIS, TOO:

If you haven't already prepared your water pipes for cold weather, do it now, before it's too late. Here's what to do:

- Wrap exposed pipes in old newspapers, rags, or burlap.
- Turn off, and drain outside faucets.
- Plug up drafty cracks and repair broken window panes in your basement.

Roving Reports

NEW YORK

T... great snowstorm of 1947 ... millions of inhabitants of ... cious city the first intro... their lifetime to the real ... nature.

... the first reaction was one ... dispelief that anything ... is violate the laws laid ... city hall and halt the ... is in its tracks.

Nature here is generally a vague something that causes you to be too hot in the summer, so you go to an air-conditioned movie or too cold in winter, so you turn on the radiator.

Hal Boyle

Otherwise nature has very little to do here, where nobody stares at pink elephants but a live cow draws a crowd The weather is supposed to obey the rules — just like everybody else.

Life in Manhattan moves to the routine of a turning wheel, so it was with uneasy astonishment and strange awe that the cliff dwellers saw the storm come down and throttle their city, and halt the wheels that always turned before.

They seemed so soft and harmless, these many-millioned snowflakes, filtering endlessly from a lead-roofed sky. But as the hours passed they thickened into a sucky mass that reached higher on churning tires and finally held fast the big vehicles with the power of a hundred surging horses.

In one stranded bus a reconverted old trolley motorman grumbled:

"This'll teach 'em to get rid of trolley cars Trolley cars never got stuck by the snow."

AMAZED PASSENGERS found it necessary to get out and mush many blocks through thigh-high drifts to home. And it was this fact that struck deep into their startled senses — some strange force had finally made it necessary to use their own feet in the city where no one walks but policemen (And the police complain about it)

By nightfall New York looked like the scene of a gigantic pillow fight or a desolate chickenyard waist deep in moist feathers.

A father, mother and their daughter passed a department store as its radio blared out the news that the snow was deeper than any known since Peter Stuyvesant peg-legged along the old Bowery, and the mother said excitedly:

'See, honey, we're making history."

"I'd rather be home than make history," said the little girl grimly

BUT NEW YORK TAKES huge delight in bigness of any kind In Times Square when the electric news sign spelled out a bulletin that the snowfall record of the famous blizzard of '88 had been passed, a spontaneous cheer of hometown pride broke out.

To henpecked suburbanites unable to catch trains home the snowfall was a bonanza—an excuse for a night out alone in the big city So they forked out for beers in midtown pubs, and sang songs with strangers and rollicked in street corner snowball fights

WALKING ACROSS the East Side to a subway the next morning, I met a man plodding past stalled buses.

"It's woise down here than'n duh Bronx," he said in dazed wonder "I live in duh Bronx Nothin's movin' up there. And down here even less is movin'"

Never before had he seen the traffic torrent of Manhattan, the capital of the universe, capriciously stilled by anything except the majestic hand of a traffic cop. The miracle will remain in the memory of millions here all their days

It was some snowfall. Out in Hollywood it probably would have been almost terrific.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A Painful Throat Infection

Not so many years ago, strep sore throat was a dreaded condition, not only because it made the patient very sick, but because it left the doctor virtually helpless to aid him.

Today, fortunately, we have very good weapons against it in penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs. This is not to say, however, that strep throat is a minor ailment. Caused by hemolytic streptococci germs, this condition may produce a great deal of swelling and pain in the throat, high fever and prostration. It is the more dangerous because of the complications which often accompany it, such as middle-ear infection, abscesses in the tissue around the tonsils, or infection of the nasal sinuses.

Early treatment with penicillin seems very effective in warding off these complications. In addition, it has been noted that the giving of penicillin by injection into a muscle is followed by a rapid disappearance of the germs from the nose and throat of the affected patient. At the same time, there is a lessening of the severity of the symptoms, while the temperature returns to normal.

In one series of patients treated with penicillin, the temperature became normal within three days in 70 per cent of the patients and within four days in 85 per cent of them It would appear that in order to obtain satisfactory results from the use of the penicillin, the treatment must be carried out over a period of at least five days; otherwise the germs will again be found in the nose and throat and the symptoms may return.

It has also been noted that when certain patients were treated with penicillin and then given the sulfonamides for a period of ten days or more, relapses were prevented.

There are some who believe that the penicillin treatment should be given not only to the severely-ill adult patients, but to all children with strep throats, in order to ward off complications which tend to occur more frequently in children than in grownups. If the penicillin is given by mouth about three to six times a day, treatment by injection is not required.

There may be some variation in the resistance of different types of streptococci germs to the various preparations employed Thus, it may be found in some cases that penicillin is not effective, but that the sulfonamide drugs will produce better results and quicken recovery.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

This is the first of three stories explaining the Marshall plan what it is how it started, and what it is supposed to do.

WASHINGTON

A GREAT deal has been said about the Marshall plan in the past six months.

And more will be said in the coming months, for congress starts on the plan when it comes back to work, Jan 6

Unless you know the background, you'll be dizzy when the fighting gets under way in congress.

So here, in three stories, is an outline of the plan How it started, why, what it is supposed to do

Since Germany's surrender, this country has tried to help the countries of Europe recover.

We have given some help to one country, some to another. It was done on a piecemeal basis without any general plan

MARLOW

By last spring it became clear that Europe not only was not recovering but would need a lot more help for a long time

But what could we do to make our help count" Continue giving on a piece meal basis" That did not seem to be the answer.

Congress was sure to object to this kind of aid which was using up our own strength without getting Europe on its feet

So on June 5 Secretary of State Marshall came up with a suggestion In brief, this is what he told the countries of Europe.

1—We'll help you all we can if—

2—You work out some plan for helping yourself recover and then tell us how much added help you need from us

This was not an unselfish offer. Marshall and this government had three good reasons for the suggestion, as President Truman later explained.

They were

1—Humanitarian—to help human beings, the people of Europe, get out of their jam

2—Economic—to help Europe become prosperous again This would help our prosperity later through foreign trade

3—Political—to keep Europe from turning Communist. If the countries there became too weak, they might turn to Communism as a last resort.

SHORTLY AFTER Secretary Marshall made his offer, the European Communists said they would do all they could to wreck the plan.

Russia, and the countries under Russia's thumb, refused to have anything to do with Marshall's idea.

But 16 European nations, most of them in western Europe, snatched at Marshall's offer. Those 16 were:

Austria, Belgium, Britain, Denmark, Ireland, France, Greece, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey.

The 16 met in Paris for weeks and agreed on a number of things they said they could do to help themselves and one another recover.

BUT THEY SAID their self-help would not be enough, that they'd need help from us and other American countries for at least four years

This help would be in the form of food, coal, oil, farm machinery, steel, ships and money.

They said this help would have to start in 1948 and continue through 1951. This was in mid-September

Meanwhile, President Truman had set up a number of special committees to study the whole problem of giving Europe help. And for this reason:

To see if we could help Europe on such a scale and for so long without hurting ourselves The committees said we could

Then for months, until mid-December—our government experts went over the program worked out in Paris.

THEY CUT DOWN A BIT here, changed a bit there, and after much work, came up with their ideas

This, at last, was the Marshall plan for helping Europe

(On June 5 Secretary Marshall had not offered a plan, but only a suggestion that a plan be drawn up)

On Dec 19, Mr Truman sent this plan to congress, with an urgent plea that congress approve it

Unless congress approves the plan, or some form of it, nothing can be done. Congress can okay it, change it, or kill it, although it is not expected to kill it.

Mr Truman figures that, under the plan, the help this country will have to give Europe should amount to about $17,000,000,000 over the four year period from 1948 through 1951.

Trippi, Angsman Lead Cards To Title in 28-21 Win Over Eagles

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 29—The Chicago Cardinals today reigned as the National Football league champions for the second time in the professional circuit's 28-year history and they owed it all to a "fast break" that would put basketball to shame.

In fact, yesterday's league championship game at cement-like Comiskey park was exclusively a "gym shoe" romp in which the Cardinals outlasted the Philadelphia Eagles, 28-21, before a shivering throng of 30,759.

Completely reversing the traditional form of the pass-minded professional footballers, the Cardinals struck for all four of their touchdowns on two sensational gallops each by Charley Trippi, former Georgia All-America, and ex-Notre Damer Elmer Angsman.

Trippi streaked 44 yards on a quick-opening play in the first period. Angsman exploded 70 yards into pay-dirt on a similar play in the second quarter. Trippi rambled 75 yards with a punt for a third period touchdown. And Angsman zoomed 70 yards again for another touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Eagles Game

That was the ball game, although the Eagles gamely kept within striking distance with Tommy Thompson's 53 yard scoring toss to Pat McHugh in the second quarter and short touchdown smashes by Steve Vanburen and Russ Craft in the third and fourth stanzas.

The Cardinals, tearing a page from the New York Giants, who surprised the Chicago Bears by appearing in gym shoes at the start of the second half in their 1934 league title playoff game, took the field in sneakers.

The Eagles tried to start the game with sharply-honed regular football shoes, but after a penalty for "illegal equipment," quickly changed to basketball shoes and the rest of the game was a "flat-foot" affair.

The Cardinals' triumph which wound up the longest season in N. F. L. history was marked by three record-breaking performances.

Angsman, aided by his two 70-yard touchdown rambles, amassed 259 yards in 10 ball-carrying attempts to shatter the former playoff mark of 109 yards in 10 carries by the Bears' Bill Osmanski against Washington in 1940.

New Playoff Marks

Thompson, the Eagles' passing quarterback, established two playoff marks by flinging 44 passes and hitting on 27. The former records of 33 attempts and 18 completions were set by Sammy Baugh of Washington against the Bears in 1937.

The Cardinals, who divided their swag 40 ways, collected $1,132 each from the $83,887 players' pool. The eagles, who also voted 40 shares, collected $754 each. Gross receipts from the 30,759 crowd and radio and television rights were $159,498 and the net receipts $119,839.

WAITS SANCTION OF GRAZIANO-ZALE BOUT

By The United Press

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 29—Promoter Harry Voller awaited word today from the Miami Beach Boxing commission over whether it will sanction a middleweight title bout between Rocky Graziano and Tony Zale at the Memorial Football stadium here, Feb. 26.

Voller said that he would donate all proceeds from the match to charities approved by the Veterans of Foreign Wars which would sponsor it. He said he could get 18,000 persons at the bout, which would be at the height of the Florida winter season, at prices ranging from $8 to $50 per seat.

Graziano was offered $150,000 to defend his title in a re-match with Zale, who was offered $75,000.

It was Voller's second attempt to stage the bout. The first fell through when the Miami Boxing commission, which operates independently of the Miami Beach group, said it might not condone the bout because Rocky Graziano had been dishonorably discharged from military service. Voller originally had planned to hold the fight in the Miami Orange bowl which has a seating capacity of more than 65,000 for a prize fight.

U. S. C. STOCK RISES AS BOWL DATE NEARS

Secrecy of Trojan Drills Ups Coast Optimism.

By The Associated Press

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 29—Southern California and Michigan head into the final stages of conditioning today for their New Year's day engagement in the Rose Bowl, and surprising enough, it appears a gentle ray of hope has begun to peep out of the U.S.C. camp.

Apparently the only reason for this cautious upgrade of optimism is based on the complete secrecy thrown around the Trojans' drills—and possible new operational plans.

Jeff Cravath, the Troys' coach, who guided them to four Pacific Coast conference championships and two wins in three trips to the Rose Bowl since 1942, has not been exactly mysterious; he just hasn't been talking.

Trojan backers figure that Cravath certainly must have undertaken drastic changes of one sort or another after Notre Dame shellacked his boys 38-7 Dec. 6.

Best bet is that U.S.C. will try to mount a charging defense, practically an offense, in breaking up Michigan's vaunted sleight-of-hand tricks before the Wolverines' fullback, Jack Weisenburger, or the two halfbacks, Bob Chappius or bouncing Bump Elliott, can get going.

4 MARKS SET IN SUGAR BOWL MEET

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29—Four new marks were set in the Sugar Bowl track records today and the apparent ease with which one of them was set by Jerry Thompson of University of Texas, was still being discussed.

Thompson, a 24-year-old war veteran and N.C.A.A. two-mile champ, lowered the mark for the 3000-meter run by an early nine seconds in winning one of the six events in yesterday's meet. His time for the distance was 8:35.4 as against the old mark of 8:44.1 set by Walter Mehlr of Wisconsin in 1940.

Ross Nichols of Oklahoma A. & M., again won the high hurdles in setting a new mark of 14.4, one-tenth of a second better than the old mark set by Marsh Farmer of Texas Tech in 1940. Dick Maxwell of Ohio State, was second.

Bill Hulse of the New York Athletic club took the 1500-meter event in the new time of 3:55, besting the 1940 mark of Archie San Romani of Kansas.

Another new mark was in the one mile relay which Oklahoma A. & M. won in the time of 3:18.4. A picked team of northern runners set the old mark of 3:21.2 in 1938.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—Bob Quinn, who has been in baseball for 55 years, as player, scout, manager and executive, maintains that in all that time he has known of only one big league manager who made good without the training that comes from piloting in the minors. That one is Bucky Harris. . . . "And Harris," adds Quinn, "had the advantage of talking things over every morning with Clark Griffith, who knew all about managing and who was just off the bench himself when Bucky first started in Washington." . . . Another opinion that Quinn offers emphatically is that a manager is foolish to go out on the coaching lines. "He has enough to do running the team from the bench," Bob maintains. "It's awkward because he has to call the batter up from the plate to talk to him. And if he makes a mistake coaching, the players on the bench will be growling. . . . All clubhouse lawyers are born right there on the bench."

CHUCK DAVEY, who'll lead Michigan State boxing team against Maryland in the Sugar Bowl meet tonight, never lost a bout in two seasons of college competition. He was National Collegiate A. A. 127-pound champ in 1943, before going to war, and 135-pound winner last year. . . . But Syracuse's Gerry Auclair, current N.C.A.A. 125-pound champion, who'll pace the Orange against Miami in the Orange Bowl fisticuffing tomorrow, has that beat. He's the sixth boxer to win an eastern intercollegiate title three years. The only time in three seasons he lost a decision he gave his conqueror a shellacking in a return engagement to win his national title.

GEORGIA COACH OFFERS TO QUIT AFTER ATTACK

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 29—Head Football Coach Wallace Butts of the University of Georgia has offered to resign after accusing State Auditor B. E. Thrasher, Jr., of "distorting expenses" in connection with Butts' salary.

Thrasher recently reported that Butts received $19,749.95 during the last fiscal year, $9,499.92 as salary, $78.33 as a bonus, $6,541.70 as subsistence allowance, and $3,000 as "Sugar Bowl contingencies."

A 27-game basketball schedule—most extensive and ambitious cage card in De Paul history—will be played by the Blue Demons this season.

FORMER N.D. COACH DIES

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Dec. 29—Thomas Austin Barry, 68, retired attorney who coached the Notre Dame football team in 1905-06 and the University of Wisconsin team in 1907-09, died here Saturday. He was born in Brockton, Mass.

STANFORD END TO ENROLL AT PURDUE

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29—T. S. Ary, a top flight end who played two early season football games for North Carolina State last September and later enrolled at Stanford, advised the San Francisco Chronicle today he was withdrawing from Stanford and enrolling at Purdue.

"After thinking over eligibility status, I am withdrawing from Stanford and enrolling at Purdue for winter quarter," Ary said in a telegram from Evansville, Ind.

After he entered Stanford last fall, Ary practiced with the Indians and Coach Marchie Schwartz regarded him as a first class end. Although ineligible this past season, Schwartz had consoled himself with the thought that Ary would be available next fall.

However, at the recent Pacific Coast conference meeting, it was made clear that under the transfer rule, Ary could not compete out there until the 1949 season. Apparently this motivated Ary to leave Stanford and enter Purdue where, the Chronicle said, he presumably can play next season.

Cleveland Browns Sign T-Quarterback Tittle

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29—The Cleveland Browns, champions of the All-America conference, today announced the signing of Y. A. Tittle Jr., star passer and signal caller for the past four years at Louisiana State university.

Coach Paul Brown said he considered Tittle "one of the best collegiate T-formation quarterbacks among the 1947 crop."

Tittle hurled 11 touchdown passes for L.S.U. this season and completed 49 passes out of 96 attempts for 789 yards.

MIAMI GRIDDERS WORK OUT FOR TEXAS TECH

By The Associated Press

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 29—Miami university scheduled two stiff workouts today as the Redskins started final preparations for the Sun Bowl game with Texas Tech here New Year's day.

The Redskins arrived here by plane Saturday and went through a fast drill yesterday. Tommy Coles, defensive back, was the first casualty. He had to quit practice because of an old knee injury.

Coach Sid Gillman said he would concentrate on exercises for the team because of the change in altitude.

Most of the practice yesterday was limited to running and to some contact work for the line.

Ohio College Holiday Cage Schedule Light but Tough

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 29—Ohio collegiate basketball will be short on quantity again this week because of the holidays, but quality will be front-rank as state hoopsters attempt a rebound from Saturday's dismal showing of only one intersectional triumph.

Ohio State's sophomores, who turned back Washington, 68-60, while three other Ohio squads were getting the short end against foreign foes, command most of the spotlight since they make their Big Nine debut Saturday against invading Northwestern.

The unbeaten Toledo Rockets probably face the week's stiffest assignment, risking an eight-game winning streak against Cornell Tuesday, undefeated Seton Hall, New Year's day, and Michigan, co-favorites for the Big Nine title, Saturday, all at Toledo.

Bee-Gee Seeks 11th

Other headliners find once-beaten Bowling Green seeking its 11th victory tonight at Bowling Green against unbeaten Western Kentucky, and then the Bee-Gees are at Chicago Loyola Wednesday.

Saturday, Utah's veteran-loaded Invitational Tourney champs are at Cincinnati and once-beaten Baldwin Wallace guns for its eighth straight against Seton Hall.

Ohio collegians also will be busy in three holiday tourneys. On Wednesday at Youngstown, Mount Union meets Kent and Muskingum faces Youngstown. The next night, the two winners play while the losers tangle. Cedarville, winner of only one out of seven starts, is in the Mid-western tourney opening New Year's at Terre Haute, and Miami opens the same day in an Emporia, Kan., tourney.

Miami Takes Count

Miami was handled roughly in the N. A. I. B. meet at Kansas City last weekend, blasted Friday by Beliot, 73-49, and Emporia, Kan., State, Saturday, 62-52.

Elsewhere Saturday, North Carolina State's national title contenders poured it on Cincinnati, 65-54; and Rochester, N. Y. stopped Case Tech, 57-44.

Tonight's card also has Connecticut at Akron in a game postponed from Saturday because of the Eastern snow storm, while Ball State, Ind., is at Xavier.

Ohio State's triumph over Washington was a direct reversal of Friday action when the Pacific Coast Huskies won, 61-55. Washington led at halftime, 27-24, but couldn't stand up against the Buckeyes' 17 fielders in 33 tries in the last half. Dick Schnittker was high for Ohio State with 1 points.

Once-beaten North Carolina State scored its ninth victory by downing Cincinnati. State, whose lineup is dotted with former Indiana high school stars, took the lead near the end of the first half after the hosts were in front several times.

Miami trailed Emporia State 35-30, at halftime, and rallied to within two points, 39-37, before the Kansans pulled away for keeps. The loss was Miami's third.

Who's Who in Basketball Should Form by New Year

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—The basketball picture on New Year's night should give the fans a pretty good indication of who's who in the college cage world.

By that date, a majority of the current unbeaten crop—some 30-odd quintets—will have been through the bill following a flock of tough games tonight, tomorrow and, Wednesday. In addition such power-packed but once-beaten fives as North Carolina State, Holy Cross, Kentucky, Oklahoma A. & M., Purdue, Bowling Green, Georgetown, Temple, Utah, Syracuse, Michigan and Michigan State also will have encountered stiff opposition.

Kansas State (8-0), New York university (6-0), Western Kentucky (6-0), Toledo (8-0), St. Louis (5-0), and Louisville (7-0) face difficult assignments.

All Western Kentucky must do to remain undefeated by New Year's day is to knock off high-stepping Bowling Green tonight. The latter has whipped only 10 of the 11 opponents faced thus far. Toledo takes on no mean assignment tomorrow when it attempts to better its record against Cornell, one of the strongest of the Ivy league.

U.S.G.A. ADVOCATES NEW HANDICAPS

Course Rated on Its Difficulty for "Scratch Golfer."

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—A new handicap system based on numerical rating for each course was advocated today by the U. S. Golf Association.

The system, originally developed by the Massachusetts Golf Association, carries tables which can be used to compute the handicap of any golfer on a given course. Regional golf associations were urged by the U.S.G.A. to set up immediately machinery to rate the courses in their areas and assign handicaps to the players on these courses.

The new plan would disregard the present pars in its computation, and instead rate each course on the basis of its difficulty for what is described as a "scratch golfer."

The U.S.G.A. says its "scratch golfer" must be able to drive 200 yards, hit midiron shots a minimum of 180 to 185 yards and nibliks 100 to 110 yards.

The "scratch" golfer's performance for 10 rounds on the course, plus such considerations as playing length, topography, the prevailing wind conditions, etc., will give each hole a rating. A par four may be rated 3.9 or 4.2 by regional association's committee; the course rating is the total of the hole ratings, carried to the nearest even number. Thus, a 71.1 total would give the course a 71, a 71.5 or a 71.8 would give the course a 72.

The individual player's rating for the course would be based on 10 rounds for the past year or season. His total strokes for all rounds are totaled, and used as a basic figure through which he computes his handicap from the U.S.G.A. table.

A player who totaled 639 to 649 strokes in 10 rounds on a course rated 67 would be a scratch golfer. Totals from 650 to 660 give the player a one-stroke handicap. Totals from 661 to 671 give him two strokes, and so on down the line, with 36 the maximum handicap allotted.

There are separate tables for medal play and match play, but 85 per cent of the time each player will have the same handicap in both tables.

The U.S.G.A. will not put the system into operation, but instead suggests that the regional golf associations pick up the ball. However, the national organization will supply the tables.

Measured in 1940 dollars, consumer expenditures in the United States rose $8 billion dollars between 1940 and 1944.

TRAVEL LANES OPEN FOR N. Y. MILLIONS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—Transportation links in the New York metropolitan area hurdled their greatest test today as millions straggled back to their jobs for the first time since Friday's devastating snowstorm hit the area from Maine to Washington.

Deaths in the storm belt rose to at least 70.

Railroads, with the exception of the Long Island, reported commuter traffic about normal. The Long Island, which was almost completely out of service Friday night and early Saturday, managed to bring its trains in today although they were subject to delays of more than an hour in many instances.

In the city, most principal arteries had been cleared by thousands of workers laboring in day and night shifts since Friday and using more than 2,000 pieces of mechanical equipment.

Side streets, frozen solid by below freezing temperatures through the night and morning, were slippery and treacherous for pedestrians and those intrepid motorists who brought out their cars.

In outlying areas, the record 25.9 inches of snow that fell here Friday remained almost untouched and drifts were piled as high as five and six feet.

The death toll by states was: New Jersey, 31, New York, 17; Massachusetts, 9; Connecticut, 6; Pennsylvania, 2; Rhode Island, 2; New Hampshire, 2, and Maine, 1. Many fatalities were attributed to heart attacks induced by overexertion in clearing snow.

City Markets Commissioner Eugene G. Schultz reported deliveries of food were "good" and warned the public against "paying exorbitant prices" for food.

All subway lines were operating normally, but bus and trolley lines still were crippled in many places.

The snow removal force in the city was expected to be swelled to 20,000 men and more than 2,000 pieces of apparatus today.

Mayor William O'Dwyer made a radio appeal last night for all able-bodied men to help "get 99,000,000 tons of snow off the streets" of the city.

Unofficial estimates of the cost of snow removal in the city ranged from $3,000,000 to $7,000,000.

Wisconsin Foresees Overcrowded Schools

By The United Press

MADISON, Wis.—Wisconsin schools are overcrowded now, but Paul Weis hates to think what it will be like in 1953.

Weis, state director of vital statistics for the Wisconsin health board, reported Wisconsin is experiencing a baby boom. He estimated this year's births would reach 80,000 for a new record.

He figured by 1953 this year's babies would boost school enrollment 51 per cent more than enrollment this year, with 27,000 more children in the first six grades of school.

Americans own an average of two radio sets per family.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—Scattered stocks struggled successfully for mild recoveries in today's market although many leaders edged downward.

The approach of the year-end, with Wall Street opinion regarding what may happen in 1948 notably mixed, tended to accentuate investment and speculative caution.

Dealings were relatively quiet from the start. Fractional declines held a shade the majority near midday.

Occasional resistance was displayed by U. S. Steel, Studebaker, Packard Motors, U.S. Rubber, Goodrich, United Aircraft, Philip Morris, Northern Pacific, Sinclair Oil and Loew's. Intermittent stumblers included General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, J. I. Case, Boeing, Western Union, North American, Westinghouse, Air Reduction, American Woolen, Eastern Air Lines, United Air Lines, Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio.

BUCYRUS—A truck-auto collision on state route 4 in January last year is the basis of the $5,000 damage suit filed in Common Pleas court Friday by Mrs. Meta Krawetski against Ralph D. Winch. The suit is the second to grow out of the same mishap. In a previous action Winch was given a court verdict for $1,700 in a similar damage suit against Krawetski.

Award Prizes at Upper For Yule Docrations

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—Merchandise prizes were awarded Saturday in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Christmas decoration contest. Judged best of the decorations for business places was Artz Brothers store on South Sandusky Ave.

Three prizes were awarded for the best decorated homes; first to John Walter, 439 North Fourth street; second to Miss Cuba Louise Jones, 559 North Eighth street and third to John N. Garner, 351 Henderson Ave. Other impressive displays for which there were no classifications in the contest were those at the Union school building and at the municipal water plant. The display spotlighted on the porch roof at the Walter home was a realistic picturization of the journey of the Wise Men to Bethlehem.
